MR. H. LYNN MILLER, Principal

Beloved Principal Of Jefferson

High School 1942-1954

We dedicate the 1955 NAUTILUS in lasting memory of our late beloved principal, Mr. H. Lynn Miller, who died December 28, 1954.

Born at Montmorenci, Mr. Miller grew up in that community and graduated from high school there. He took post graduate work at Jefferson before going to Indiana University where he graduated in 1909 with an AB degree. In 1933 he received an MA degree from Purdue.

Mr. Miller joined the Montmorenci school staff in 1923 and taught there until becoming a member of the Jefferson staff as a mathematics teacher. He became dean of boys in 1931 and was made principal in 1942.

No one was more familiar with our high school, its progress, and growth than Mr. Miller. For some time he had been engaged in writing a book on the history of Jefferson High School and its students.

We at Jefferson High School will always cherish the memory of him and of his many contributions to our training for the future. We have lost a good friend and a great leader.

Jeff Trains Us

For The Future . . .

In years to come, looking at the picture of the group training on the adjoining page and the picture of Jefferson High School on the following page, we will not only remember the important role Jeff played in our adolescent days, but also its reflected importance on our future.

While at Jeff we had many experiences and every one of them helped us to develop and mature mentally, socially, physically, and emotionally. These accomplishments will be deciding factors in our future lives.

Education is the main purpose of any high school. Jeff's curriculum familiarized us with all subjects needed for occupations after graduation, whether in the business, science, or art fields. We were prepared also for family living. Besides being equipped with the "know-hows" and "know-whys" of subjects, we learned to think and use our mental ability. We went to school to learn.

The social merry-go-round was a necessity in our past four years. We must be able to work and co-operate with others to get along in life. Where in the world can you go to a place that is not inhabited by people? Organizations, social events, such as dances or picnics, enabled us to make friends and have fun. Sooner or later none of us were "wallflowers".

Many sports provided us a means of developing ourselves physically. The important element of sportsmanship also is acquired through sports. Some of us may participate in sports even after high school.

To be emotionally mature is very necessary in our lives. We found ourselves feeling very low sometimes, and then there were those times when we felt as if we were sitting "on top of the world". By experiencing these different emotions we learned to face life and we will look for "the sunny-side of the street" in the future.

Remember when we were freshmen? High school was quite a new experience to us then. In our sophomore year we were just getting acquainted with that big Jeff school. Then how those next two years flew and now we have had our senior year.

Yes, you, Jeff, trained us for the future. We just want to say thanks, thanks a lot.

To Express Our

Your book is copy 729.

In 1791, the "Bill of Rights" gave Americans the guaranteed freedom of speech and of the press. Our English Department is assuring these freedoms in the future by helping us to express our opinions correctly and effectively. We should appreciate the fine courses that are offered to us such as speech, composition, literature, radio and TV, dramatics, and journalism.

The English curriculum provides for three courses of study: Academic English, General English, and Remedial English.

The Academic English program is required of all students going to college and may be elected by any other pupil. The Academic English is divided into one semester of literature each year for three years. The fourth year of Academic English is an elective and includes composition and English literature.

The General English is designed for the non-college preparatory student. The program emphasizes functional grammar, oral composition, practical written composition, and a broad reading program to develop reading skills and interests.

The Remedial English program is designed to help the students who need individual instruction.

Opinions Correctly

Courses in literature are valuable not only as a background for college work, but also as an introduction to great classics, poetry, and other works handed down to us through the ages. It helps us to understand and appreciate the writings of notable authors.

Journalism unfolds the knowledge of the newspaper to the students who elect to take it. The school paper is compiled by members of the classes giving them experience in working on a paper.

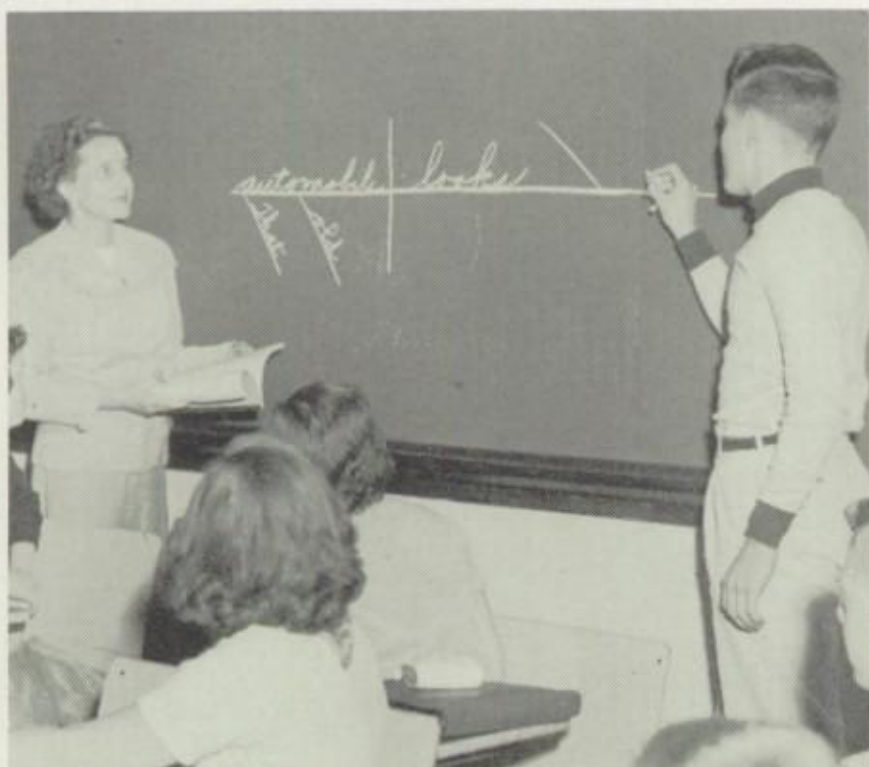

The Speech Department at Jeff is continually growing in the courses and activities which it offers. Many students are taking advantage of the fine opportunities which these courses offer. Speech development, radio and TV, and public speaking are the subjects that are helping to make members of the classes better speakers in public appearance, in front of a mike, or in conversation.

Composition, a college preparatory subject, instructs students how to express themselves in writing in a manner that will interest others and yet convey thoughts to them.

Pantomime, one-act plays, stage-settings, and make-up are what students learn in dramatics. These classes put on a book-week skit for the English classes and one-act plays for their own enjoyment.

American progress was founded by applied science. The Science Department here at Jeff strives to give each student a basic understanding of science fundamentals, so that he may pursue a science career after high school.

The Science Department starts in the ninth grade, since all freshman students are required to take biology. Biology deals with the fundamentals of plant and animal life, and it gives the student a brief but understandable knowledge of the functions of his own anatomy.

Students who are interested in furthering their science studies may take physics during their junior year.

Seniors may take two semesters of chemistry. This course deals with the study of chemical formulas and chemical reactions.

If a student does not wish to take two full years of chemistry and physics, he may take physical science.

Teachers in the ninth grade biology classes are Mr. Roger Claseman, Mr. John Lazar, and Mr. Darrel Neidigh.

Mr. William Levering teaches physics, and Mr. Luther Troutman teaches chemistry. Mr. Levering and Mr. Troutman both teach physical science.

New Fields

Although only one year of mathematics is required, many students take advantage of the varied mathematics courses offered at Jeff, which are useful in every phase of life.

Ever stop to think how important math is in planning a good budget or stretching an allowance? Taxes, financial and business problems also depend on this important science. Commercial math offers these fundamentals needed for every day use in the home or in a business.

For college preparatory students four years of math are advisable. Jeff's Math Department provides everything from algebra to trigonometry. These math courses are essential in many professional fields.

We have a very large staff in our Math Department. In the junior high, Miss Ruth Sexton, Mr. Ernest Deagan, Mr. David Bonham, and Mr. Robert Taylor teach general and remedial math and algebra.

The senior high math courses consist of advanced and college algebra, plane and solid geometry, trigonometry, and commercial and senior math. Miss Mary Frances Seever, Mr. Milton Leverenz, Mr. George Kenzler, and Mr. Robert Taylor instruct these courses.

Many of us at Jefferson attach too little significance to the subjects in the Social Studies Department, which are very important in preparing us for life after we leave Jeff to take a job or go to college by giving us an insight into world and United States affairs.

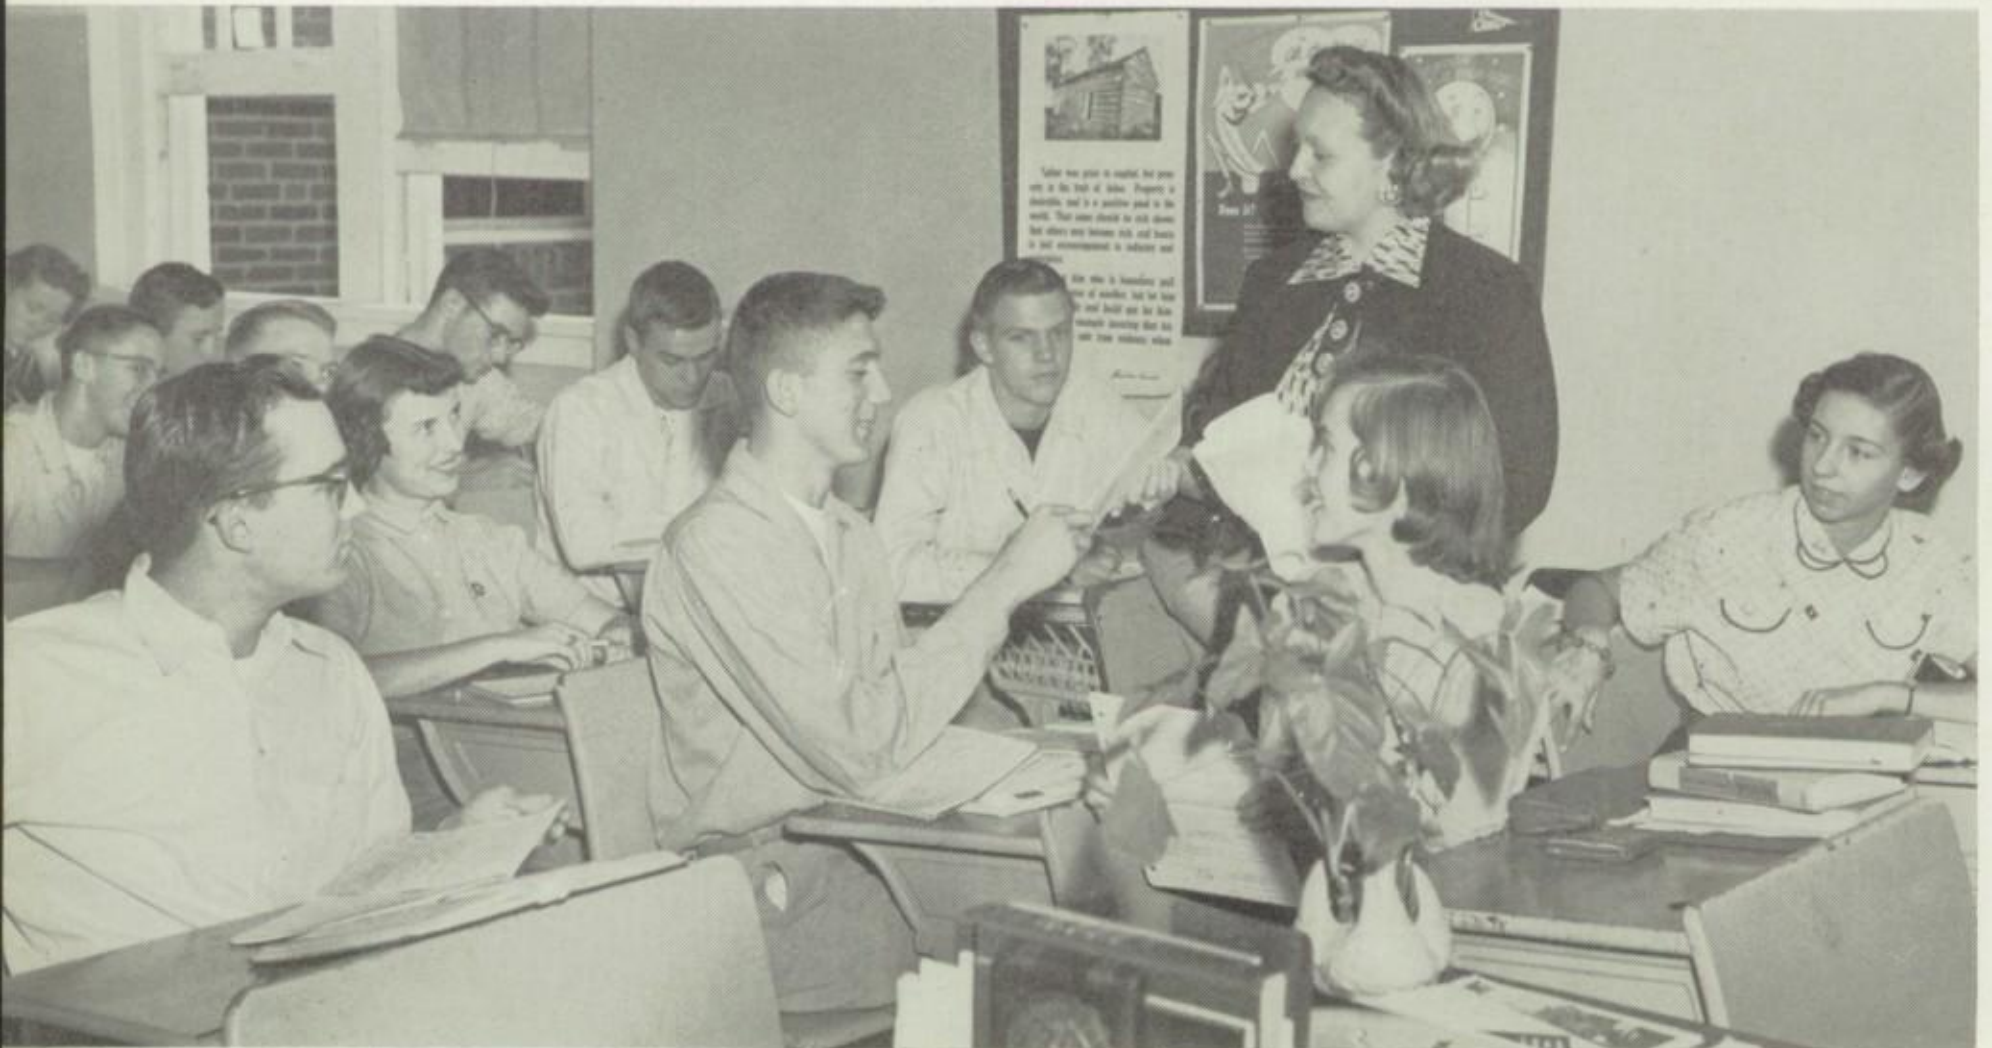

During our freshman year at Jeff, we get our first taste of social studies in an orientation class. This class is for the purpose of acquainting us with our new school, teachers, and schoolmates. It is necessary to acquaint every beginning student with the information he needs.

World history is the study of the conditions of the world in which we live and is offered as an elective subject in our sophomore year. Along with world history comes world geography, which is also offered as an elective.

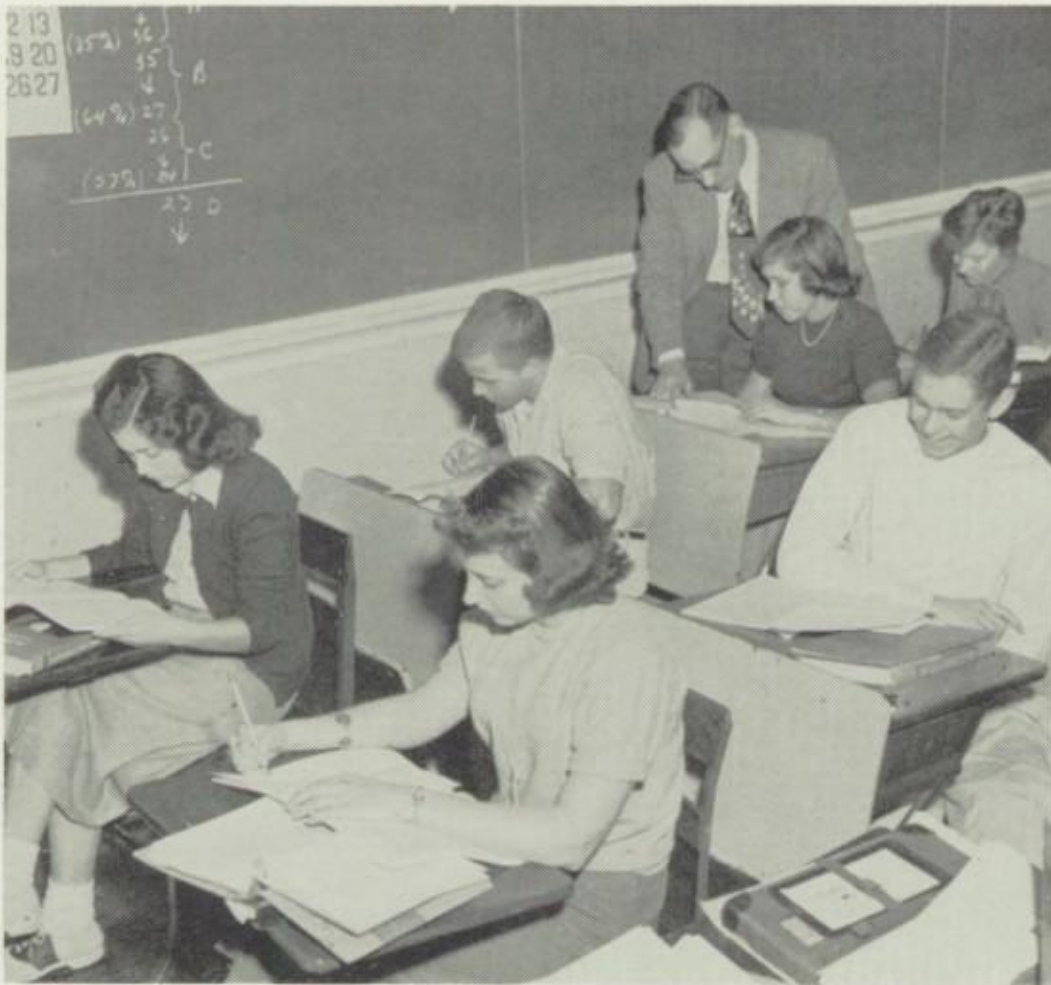

Our next encounter with social studies is in our junior year, when we are required to take United States history. This history course gives us a background of our forefathers and introduces us to our government.

In our senior year we are required to take civics, which is the study of our government.

To Preserve

How about that? I got an A.

Now, Lafayette has the mayor-council type of government.

Corn is raised in all of these states.

Our Heritage

Civics teaches us the laws and rights of mankind.

The other semester of our senior year is filled with sociology, economics, or Latin-American history.

Sociology is the study of society and living conditions.

Economics is the study of the science of man's activities, devoted to acquiring material possessions to satisfy his wants.

If you are interested in studying about our neighbors to the south, Latin-American history will give you all the facts—past and present.

In the junior high teaching orientation is Mr. Gerald Clark, Miss Mary Foltz, and Mrs. Arlene Smith, a new teacher this year.

Teaching world geography is Miss Mabel Beaver.

Mr. Alfred Mauer teaches world history.

United States history is taught by Mr. Raymond Bender, Mr. Ellis Hopkins, Mr. Heber Short, and Mr. Mauer.

Mr. Bender, Mr. Hopkins, and Mr. Short teach civics.

Teaching economics and sociology is Mrs. Edythe Van Camp.

To Keep the Commercial subjects play a very important part in training us for the future. Jefferson's excellent Commercial Department leads the student into a more efficient business world.

No matter what plans you have for your life, typing is very essential. Of course, to a student interested in secretarial work as his vocation, typing is perhaps the most important subject.

Several phases of typing are offered. Typing I introduces the student to the basic fundamentals of typing. In typing II and typing III more emphasis is placed on skill, speed, and actual business forms. Typing is taught by Mr. James Ade, Miss Martha Nash, Mr. Tom Smith, Mr. Ernest Cortner, Mr. Kenneth Andrews, and Mr. Charles Martin.

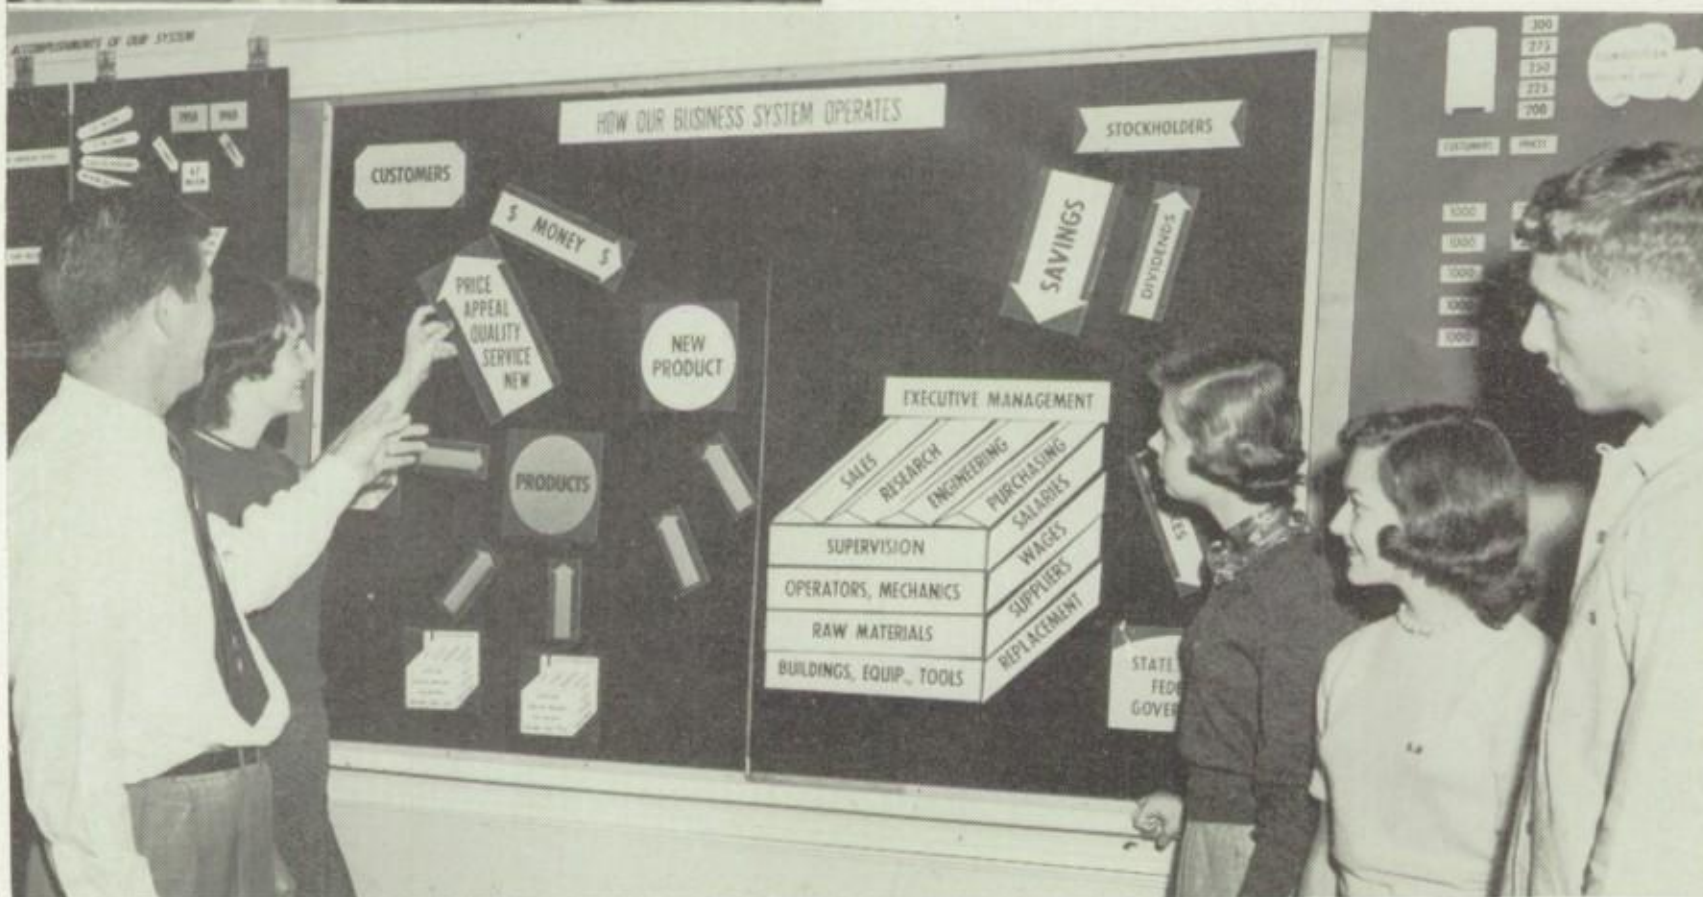

Mr. Ade teaches shorthand—a rapid way of taking dictation in business. This course also is very helpful in writing down notes on college lectures.

Transcription stresses dictation speed and typing. It prepares students for office work by teaching them to transcribe office dictation on the typewriter. Transcription is taught by Mr. Martin.

General business enables the student to better understand the basic principles of big business. Financial systems, communications, filing, and transportation are among the subjects studied in this course. Taught by Mr. Andrews, Miss Nash, and Mr. Cortner, the students learn to control their own finance wisely.

Mr. Andrews teaches the various methods of selling, with special emphasis placed upon personal contact. In salesmanship, the students learn how to open a sale, entice customers to buy their products, actually sell the goods, and increase the amount of sale.

In merchandising, the numerous marketing activities and the transportation of goods from manufacturers to customers are taught by Mr. Andrews. Merchandising includes the purchasing, selling to customers, storage of goods, and the process of operating a business, whether it be retail or wholesale.

Bookkeeping is the study of keeping records of business transactions and making reports, showing the conditions of the business. Mr. Russell Bradley teaches this course, which enables the students to keep account of their own money.

Business law teaches students just what limits are placed on business dealings. Mr. Bradley teaches business law, which is the study of how a businessman acts when dealing with others.

To Relax, Appreciate,

For those students who intend to make music a career or who find it relaxing, Jefferson offers both vocal and instrumental music.

Instrumental music is under the direction of Mr. Richard W. Bowles, who directs the Football Band, the Concert Band, the Varsity Band, and the Orchestra.

The Football Band performed at the football games, entertaining the crowd with its formations as well as its music.

Playing their best in contests and concerts was the main responsibility of the Concert Band.

The Varsity Band provided the music for the "pep songs" at the basketball games.

Rehearsing for contests, concerts, convos, and the Red and Black Revue took up most of the time of the Orchestra.

This year introduced two new personalities in the vocal section of our Music Department, Mr. Russell Pett and Miss Joanne Jonas.

Mr. Pett directed the a Cappella Choir, which sang at numerous convos and concerts. The Choralairs and the Girls' Glee Club, which participated in the Red and Black Revue, were also under the direction of Mr. Pett.

Ninth grade music classes were taught by both Mr. Pett and Miss Jonas.

And Learn

That tree needs a touch of yellow.

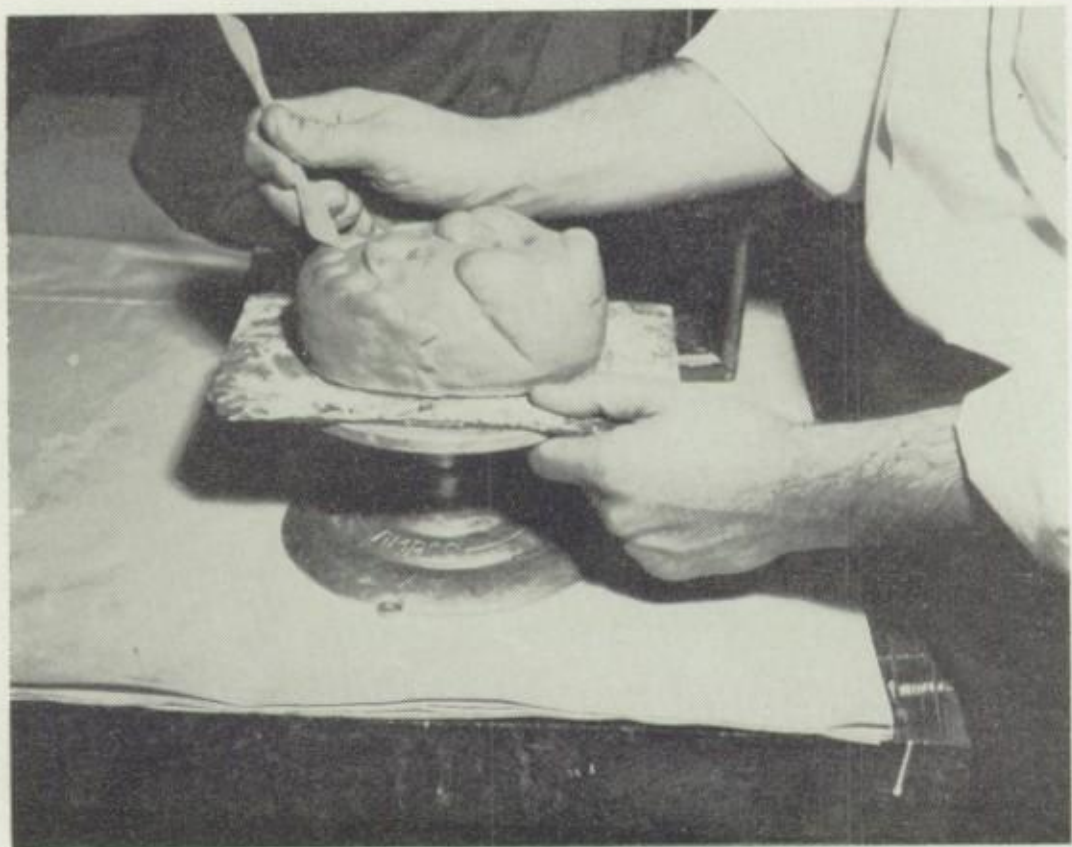

Art is the study of drawing, painting, and modeling, and attaining the ability of doing it easily and skillfully. Under the direction of Miss Georgianna Kienly, Jeff's Art Department tries to fulfill this definition in its work.

Every art student had a sketch book. A committee from the classes planned the type of art work for every six weeks. Miniature model rooms including furniture, appliances, and interior decorating taught the students home knowledge to be used in the future. The kiln was the center of activity for the advance students who made varied pottery. Murals, record albums, masks, and posters for various contests were also among the many projects. Between the second and third floors attractive art displays by the Art Department always caught the eye of everyone.

This department's work is not just limited to the art room only. Advanced students designed the backdrop for the Queen of Hearts Dance. The art students were very helpful in the Red and Black Revue by painting the backdrops.

An exhibit of all the classes' art work was seen at the "Hoof-Beats", the Music Department's musical revue.

Working with clay is very interesting.

To Be United In Languages

Part of our training for the future, especially for those of us who are going to college, comes from the Foreign Language Department. The study of a foreign language serves a dual purpose by helping us to understand our own language better and by familiarizing us with the customs of the land from which it comes.

Many people think Latin is a dead language, but this is not true; it plays an important part in our modern world today. Approximately two-thirds of the words in English are derived from Latin. Miss Carolyn Griffin, the Latin teacher, helps acquaint us with the customs of ancient Rome. As our language comes from Latin, our civilization finds many roots in the lives of the ancient Romans. Anyone who is planning to make law, medicine, or science his vocation will find an important help in the study of Latin.

Spanish joins us more closely with our neighbors to the south by teaching us their ways and customs, and a knowledge of Spanish would make a possible future trip to Mexico or South America much more enjoyable. Miss Wahneta Mullen is the teacher of this romantic modern language.

Two years' instruction is offered in both Spanish and Latin. This gives us a strong foundation in grammar and vocabulary. Classes are made interesting by such activities as making posters, decorating bulletin boards, writing reports, and listening to records.

To Keep Healthy And Happy

Strong bodies as well as strong minds is the principle on which our Physical Education Department at Jeff is based. Under excellent supervision and with an eye for the future our Physical Education Department is building happier, healthier citizens.

Health classes during the sophomore year also give the students a well-rounded knowledge of the proper way to preserve their health. The boys' classes are taught by Mr. Orval Martin, while the girls are taught by Mrs. Emily Price.

Boys' gym classes are conducted by Mr. Marion Crawley and Mr. J. C. Lybault. Mrs. Gertrude Krueger and Miss Joanne Jonas are the supervisors of the girls' gym classes.

In fair weather during the fall, outdoor football is played by teams in the boys' classes and tests on skills such as punting, passing, and place kicking are given. Group games, including calisthenics, are played. Softball is played at the football field in the spring.

The girls' program consists of modern dancing, basketball, volleyball, tennis, badminton, and games developing grace and coordination.

During one six weeks' period, girls' and boys' classes are combined for coeducational courses, such as square dancing and social dancing in the little gym.

To Enjoy Being Good Homemakers

To learn to manage a home efficiently is the aim of every future homemaker. A knowledge of food and food preparation is not all that is needed. Clothing, first aid, child care, and other necessities play an important part in home life.

Sewing classes, under the direction of Miss Helen Grishaw, help the girls become acquainted with up-to-the-minute styles and fashions. Along with learning the fundamentals of sewing, the girls enlarge their own wardrobes.

First aid and practical nursing are taught by Miss Gleela Ratcliffe. In the home nursing and child study courses, knowledge of how to care for the convalescent, simple nursing procedures, physical and psychological needs of children, and development of skills in first aid are taught.

Pleasant odors drift from delicious dishes prepared by the students of Miss Irma Slayback and Miss Ratcliffe. Table decorations and placement of dishes and silver are also included in this thorough training program.

The greatest accomplishment of the Home Economics Department is teaching students to live together harmoniously and happily.

To Prepare for Skilled Trades

Jeff's Industrial Arts Department has become one of the most developed departments in the state in the past few years.

We have professional and semi-professional tools and machinery that enable us to get a thorough knowledge of industrial arts. We learn the importance and care of the actual tools and machinery which we would use in shops across the nation. These courses provide a very adequate background of skilled industrial occupations.

Our curriculum includes general shop, auto mechanics, woodworking, printing, mechanical drawing, electricity, beginning machine shop, and vocational machine shop.

Mr. Gerald Hitchings, Mr. Robert Leavitt, and Mr. George Price teach general shop. Mr. Hitchings teaches woodshop, Mr. Leavitt instructs mechanical drawing, and Mr. Price also teaches electricity. Printing is taught by Mr. Elbert Morgan. Mr. Richard Thoennes teaches auto shop, and vocational machine shop is taught by Mr. H. J. Wills.

To Dance For Fun

Mike LeVitt was crowned Chief Spaceman at "Destination Moon."

Mike LeVitt was crowned "space man" of "Destination Moon," the 1954 Bronchoette Gallop held at Allen's Ballroom, October 9, 1954. Susan Rostov, president of the Sunshine Society which sponsored the dance, crowned Mike and presented him a billfold.

Other candidates for king were Ted Barrett, Paul Cooper, Mike Costello, Bill Davis, Ralph Maple, John McBeath, Duff McKenzie, Dick Neel, Dick Schrader, and Dude Taylor. Every attendant received proper headgear for the occasion.

Approximately two hundred fifty couples danced to the music of the Ambassadors who played the sweetest music this side of the moon. Stars, moons, and a rocket ship created the heavenly atmosphere.

This first girl-ask-boy dance of the year will long be remembered. This was the night when the girls footed the bill when it came to flowers, transportation, and "goodies." Some of the girls brought their dates to the dance in their "rocket ships" and they all presented them with corsages that were "out of this world." The boys were not taken home on an empty stomach. Yes, it was quite a night and after it was all over, everyone came back down to earth. "See you next year; maybe we can make our destiny the moon again."

Jane Fowler, general chairman of the Gallop, discusses the dance with part of her committee.

As a switch, the girls are the escorts for this dance.

And Romance

Paulene Minneman was crowned "queen for a night" at the Queen of Hearts, the Jeff Hi-Y's annual dance. Ed Becker, president of the Hi-Y, gave Paulene a spray of red roses and a heart locket. The queen's attendants, Linda McNeely and Marsha Vance, received pink carnation bouquets.

Other candidates for queen were Mary Shoemaker, Carol Hazelbaker, Donna Habben, Gail Painter, and Julie Kalberer. Candidates were petitioned by Jeff Hi-Y members, and all attending the dance cast ballots for queen as they entered the dance.

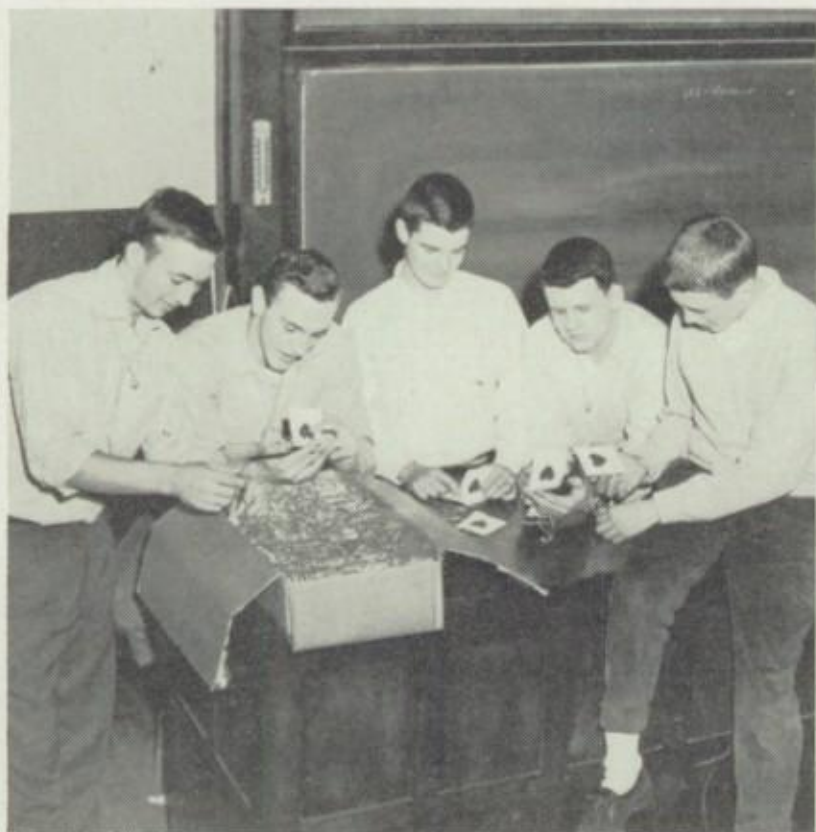

The North Ballroom of the Purdue Union Building was the scene of the dance on January 22, from nine to twelve.

Music by Wayne Luby and his fifteen-piece band put the boys and their queens in a romantic mood. The band entertained them with some "bop" numbers, as well as providing dreamy dance music. A heart-decorated backdrop and pink lights, together with the girls in vari-colored formals, completed the gay transformation of the ballroom.

It is a tradition of this dance that Jeff Hi-Y members give their dates favors instead of flowers. This year these gifts were furry toy skunks with bracelets on their tails. Each bracelet was engraved with the girl's initial and "Queen of Hearts, 1955." The girls added the skunks to their souvenir collections and proudly wore their bracelets to the dance.

Paulene Minneman was elected Queen of Hearts.

The program committee admires the finished product.

King Rex always reigns over the Mardi Gras.

Colorful costumes added to the gay atmosphere.

To Celebrate A Gay Spanish Fiesta

Colorful decorations, good music, and a gay spirit were captured in a celebrated atmosphere of the Spanish Club's Mardi gras held March 26, 1955, at Allen's Ballroom.

Pete Trower and his "Spotlighters" set the pace for the many costumed dancers filling the ballroom. Everyone received "sombreros espanoles" as favors at the door.

A large paper mache' figure of King Rex, the actual King of the Mardi gras, was the center of the decorations. Pink, black, and gray colors with masks, streamers, and balloons caught the eye of every merrymaker.

The climax of the evening was the crowning of the Mardi gras King and his date who were Stan Kingma and Judy Spiker. The candidates for king were kept secret until the very night of the dance, making the evening one of suspense and excitement.

Walking into the ballroom, we felt that we were at the real New Orleans' Mardi gras. Let's hope the Spanish Club will be saying "Come, come, to the Mardi gras" in the future years, for if it does we can be sure to have many more merry times.

To Practice Democracy

Sign right here if you want to elect the best candidate for President.

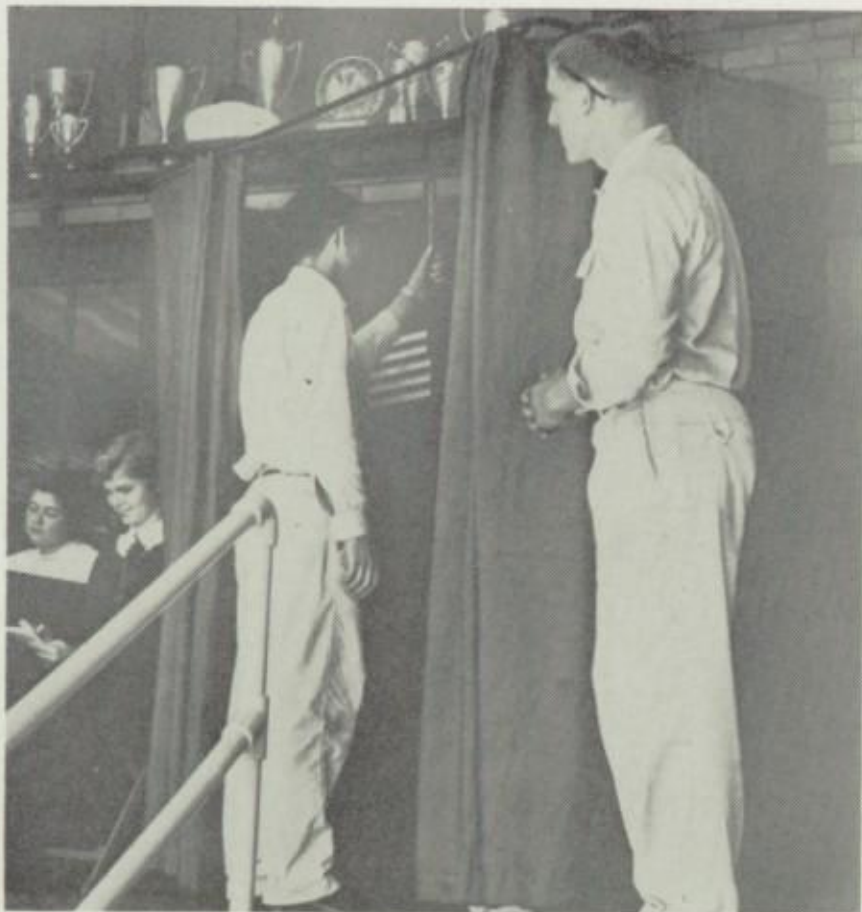

Voting in high school enables us to practice a future citizen's responsibility. Voting is a duty that everyone should exercise. We get acquainted with this privilege by having class elections starting in our freshman year. Seniors, juniors, and sophomores made use of the voting machine provided by the County Commission.

This year's senior election found many candidates up for the three offices which were president, vice-president, and secretary-treasurer. No tickets were used. The names of the candidates arranged on the voting machine were done by lotting.

The 1955 class officers elected were Paul Cooper, president; Bill Davis, vice-president; and Gary Johnson, secretary-treasurer.

Other candidates for president were Pequetti Wilhauck, Norma Becht, and Mike Costello. Joanne Pottlitzer and Duff McKenzie ran for vice-president. Candidates for secretary-treasurer were Ronnie Bollock and Susan Rostov.

Candidates were nominated by petitions and every petition required fifty names. Campaign posters adorned the halls during election week. As a result of electing all boy officers, many of the girls followed tradition and wore boys' clothing after election day.

Machines are used for democratic voting.

Congratulations on winning the election!

To Live Together Pleasantly

It's your move.

Rosie and Mr. Hopkins really go to town.

Do you like to dance and listen to good music, or would you rather play table tennis or checkers? Whatever your taste, you can have fun at the Columbian Park Youth Center. There is a good band on the stage at the pavilion each Wednesday night.

The Lafayette Federation of Musicians provides the music. The Jeff Dance Band, the Salty Dogs, and several professional bands have made an appearance at the Youth Center. Dancing and just talking center on the top floor.

In the basement are ping-pong tables, checker boards, shuffleboard, cards, and bingo. Checker tournaments are sometimes held in the basement. Many students of Jefferson and surrounding schools came to Youth Center regularly and enjoyed its facilities.

Mr. Charles J. Hopkins was the manager of the Youth Center. Each Wednesday night he supervised giving door prizes to certain lucky ones.

This was the sixth year of the Youth Center. The anniversary was celebrated in January. Special parties also provided extra entertainment at Christmas, before school, and after the prom.

Clarinet music is terrific for dancing.

To Enjoy Friends And Fellowship

"What to do on Saturday night" has always been a problem to Jeff students. The "Spot", a new youth center under the supervision of the Y.W.C.A., was the solution to our problem this year.

As extra features during the year the "Spot" held mixers after three home basketball games, a Christmas party, Dec. 22, and was open during the Sectional Tourneys between sessions.

As a gesture in recognition of Mr. Lynn Miller's fine work at Jeff, the "Spot" presented the school before the last home basketball game an oil painting of him. This portrait is now hanging at Jeff as a lasting memorial.

A governing board consisting of Jeff girls and boys supervise the "Spot's" functions.

To honor and preserve the memory of Mr. Lynn Miller, the "Spot" club presented an oil portrait of him to the school.

Please show me your membership card.

Ping-pong is a favorite pastime at the "Spot."

Representatives of each act came back for the finale of the finale.

To Familiarize Us

"Music Moods" was the appropriate theme of the annual Red and Black Revue held in the Jeff gym, November 4, 1954. Bob Schaaf, sophomore, was Master of Ceremonies of the one night show which had a cast of almost three hundred. Around three thousand people witnessed the showing of Jeff's biggest annual revue of the year.

We who participated in the "Red and Black" agree with that ever popular song, "There's No Business Like Show Business," because we experienced it. Who knows? Maybe some of us may be a part of that everlasting business someday just because we had that chance to display our hidden talents in high school. If this is not the case, we know even then that having such a revue gives us an even more important gain, that of working and co-operating with others.

Mr. George Price, shop teacher, was general chairman of this year's revue which consisted of five acts and ten specialties.

Act I was called Gypsy Holiday, and was under the direction of Mr. Kenneth Andrews, commercial teacher. The setting had a group of dancing gypsies around a fire. "Dark Eyes", and "Romanian Rhapsody" carried out the theme of a gypsy's holiday.

A ghost town was the setting of Act II, directed by Mrs. Jane Williams, speech teacher. The ghost town became very much alive when cowboys, bronc busters, rope twirlers, and show girls invaded it. The spirit of the lone prairie appeared in the western songs, "I'm A Lone Cow Hand", "Riders In the Sky", and "Ragtime Cowboy Joe".

The third act switched to the sidewalks of New York in the time of the Gay Nineties. Mr. George Smith, junior counselor, directed this act. The songs, "The Spinning Waltz" and "Sidewalks of New York", highlighted the act. Another attraction was two people riding a unicycle accompanied by the song, "Bicycle Built for Two".

We journeyed way down South in Dixie for Act IV, directed by Miss Joanne Jonas, freshman music and gym teacher. The scene took place by the waterfront with workers lounging on cotton bales in the background. The act was mostly pantomime showing the true feelings of the South. "The St. Louis Blues", "Darktown Strutters Ball", "Short'nen Bread", and "Lucky Ole Sun" were songs which completed this "Dixie" act.

All of the humdrum activities of those daring days were brought to life in the Roaring 20's, Act V, directed by Miss Joyce Randall, English teacher. The scene was cut in two settings—half a sweet shop and the other part a football game. In the sweet shop was found "Sweet Georgia Brown", complete with a quartet, and Charleston number. At the football game there was a dance sequence and cheerleaders.

The finale represented "musical moods" extremes. The choral groups danced the Latin American dance, the congo, and the bunny-hop, one of the latest American dance fads. The finale also featured solos and the a Cappella Choir, Choralairs, and Glee Club. Mr. Russell Pett, music teacher, directed the finale.

The entire show was accompanied by the orchestra under the direction of Mr. Richard Bowles.

Other faculty committee chairmen for the revue were Specialties, Mr. C. J. Martin; Publicity, Mr. C. J. Hopkins; Ticket Sales, Mr. Russell Bradley; Stage Props, Mr. Gerald Hitchings and Mr. Robert Leavitt; Stage Lighting, Mr. H. J. Wills; Stage Crew, Mr. Ernest Deagan; Art, Miss Georgiana Kienly; Sound, Mr. L. W. Smith and Mr. R. W. Levering; and Programs, Mr. Elbert Morgan.

The profits, which were about nine hundred dollars, were used for a new valance for the stage, other stage equipment, and for the NAUTILUS.

The 1954 Red and Black Revue was a success.

Mr. Price best expressed it when he said, "It takes the combined efforts of everyone to make a show a success. I think we put on a show that the parents and community were proud of."

It did take a lot of everyone's time for putting the show together and polishing it, but it was worthwhile in every way. Even though all the hard work was spent for only one night, we still say, "Viva la Red and Black".

Play, gypsies; dance, gypsies.

Thus ends another great show . . .

To Display Our Musical Talent

Spacemen came hurtling to our gym in their flying saucers on February 3, 1955, with twenty-four hours to see what American life is like. The cast of "Hoof-Beats" tried to show them a cross-section of life in the United States and at the same time entertained a large crowd of spectators.

"Hoof-Beats" is produced almost entirely by members of the two bands, the orchestra, and the a Cappella Choir.

Jill, played by Joyce Longren, told the spacemen her beliefs by singing "I Believe", with the a Cappella Choir. Then Dave Culross, saying,

"Actions are stronger than words", began to show them how we live.

The show proceeded through a clothing display, a weight-lifting act, gymnastics, orchestra and Dixieland band selections, and various songs and dances.

Vivian Forster portrayed a teacher; Arnold Yarno, a policeman; Mike Lane, the villain; and Sondra Tingay, a spoiled little girl with a hot trumpet.

"Hoof-Beats", produced and directed by Mr. Richard W. Bowles, has made such a hit in the last two years that it will become an annual production.

Those crazy cats really jazz it up!

Now where do you think you're going, little girl?

Why, the spacemen speak Latin!

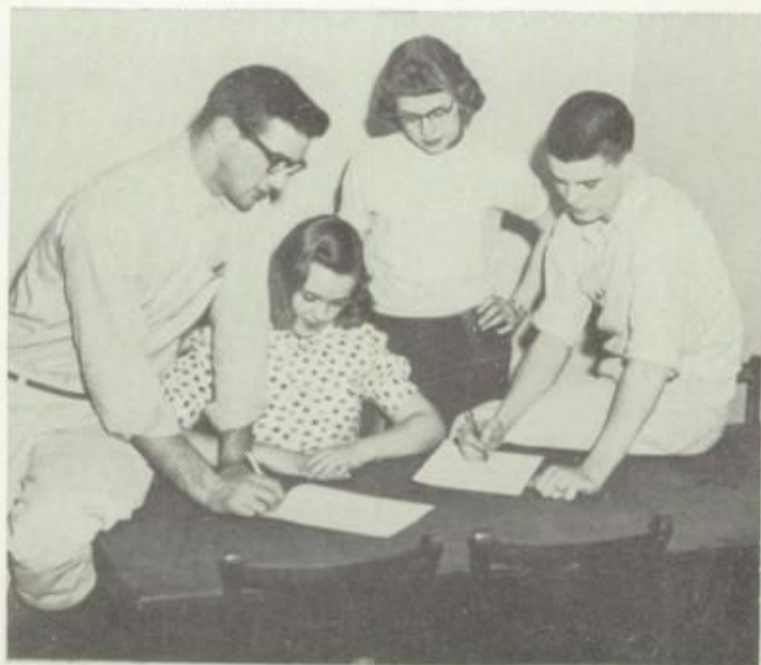

Please don't embarrass me in front

To Climax The Year

What a wonderful way to end that senior year! The 1955 Senior Prom climaxed our last year in high school and left in our minds for years and years to come a terrific evening. Maybe we should say morning too. Senior Prom night usually starts early in the evening and lasts till those wee hours of the morning.

Many Prom "goers" started the evening with a dinner party. Then it was off to the Prom, the boys in their snappy tuxes and the girls in those special Prom formals.

Entering into the gym through trellis-covered doors, we found ourselves in a Spanish patio enclosed in pink walls. The gym was totally beyond recognition. On the south end of the gym large white steps led up the middle to the stage which had been transformed into a garden with a large fountain in the center.

Prom committee chairmen: M. LeVitt, band; J. Pottlitzer, programs; P. Wilhauck, publicity; E. Farley, finance. Not shown is M. Lynch, invitations.

Planning decorations are W. Kuipers, A. Pearlman, and S. Tingay.

This is only the beginning!

In A Whirl of Fun

Strains of terrific music came from Buddy Morrow's band which was located on the east side of the "patio." His belief isn't to try educating us from the bandstand; instead it is to play the type of music we wanted to hear.

One of the biggest and most exciting events of our senior year had come to an end.

After the dance was over, we still had the "after the prom" party held at Columbian Park Pavilion. The breakfast drew that wonderful event to a final close.

We were all tired, but we all had a satisfaction that our Prom had been just right.

Prom committee chairmen were Mike Le-Vitt, band; Margaret Lynch, invitations; Pe-quetti Wilhauck, publicity; Wilma Kuipers, decorations; Joanne Pottlitzer, programs; and Pat McDill, tickets.

Buddy Morrow's band provided the dreamy music.

Highlighting the evening was the Grand March.

It's the loveliest night of the year.

To Find Our Career

"Money Mad", presented by this year's senior class, March 24 and 25, 1955, was a gay, fast-moving comedy written by Kurtz Gordon.

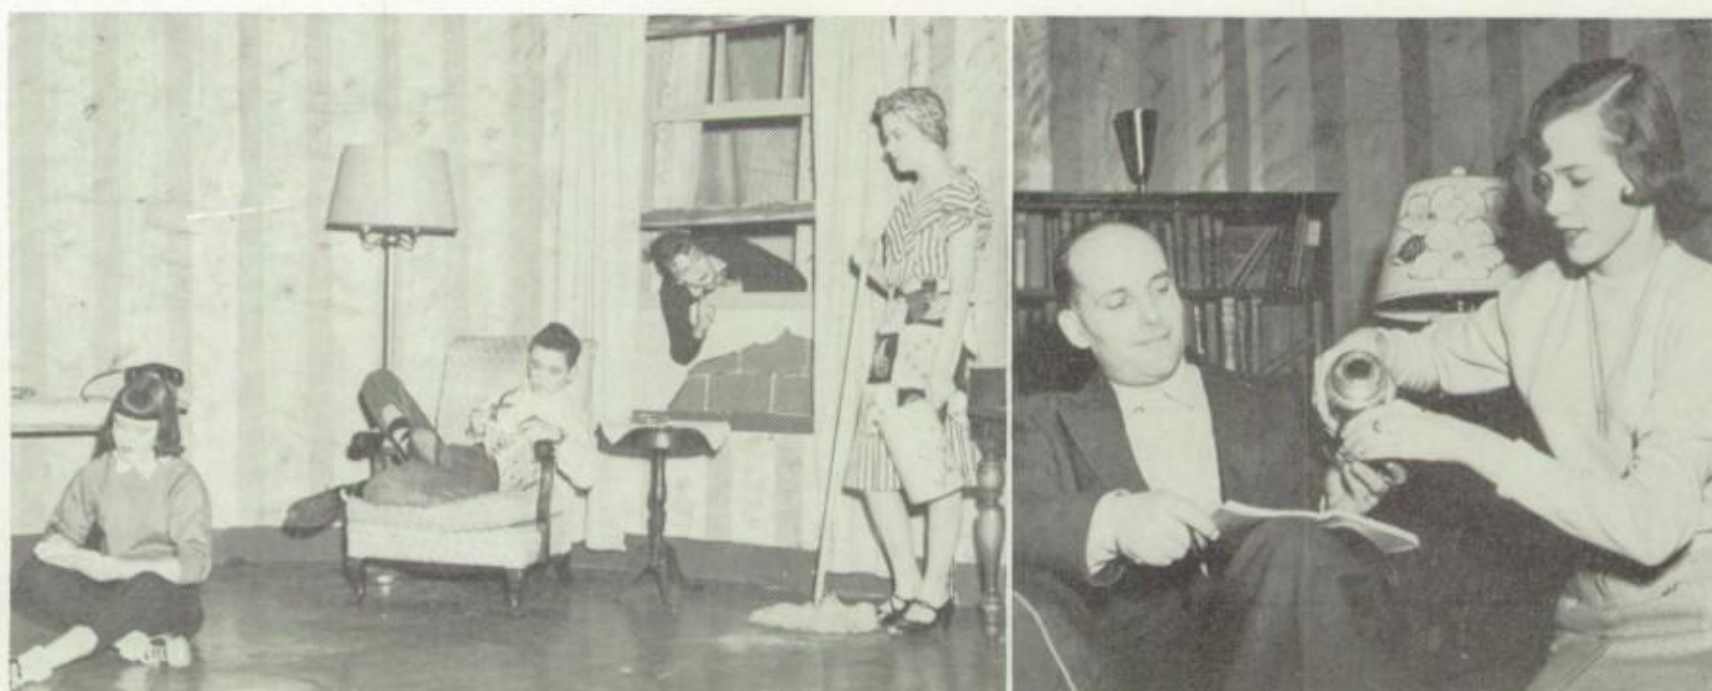

Even though youth dominates the entire play, the fathers of the Blakely and Hobson families, that have been close friends and neighbors for ten years, actually cause the fracas.

It all started when Mr. Larry Hobson induces Mr. Edgar Blakely to invest with him in a real estate deal which involves a toll road to Chicago. Mr. Hobson's son Keith and Mr. Blakely's daughter Janet had planned to attend a co-ed college together. Janet and Keith each had his own college fund. Since Mr. Hobson and Mr. Blakely had no money for their deal, their thoughts turned immediately to these funds. When Mrs. Blakely and Mrs. Hobson found out about the proposed deal they assured their husbands the deal had better come off "or else".

The course of the toll road was changed. This caused their plans to backfire. The next thing you know the big mad was on. Both households were in a turmoil.

Janet and Keith, the only sensible people around, turn an apparent loss into a profitable investment that will pay their way through college. Their money-mad parents got shocked when they heard the toll road was going straight through their living rooms. The big mad was on again!

"Now Effie, you attend to your own business!"

Director of the play, Mr. George Smith, and student director Diane Lux.

"Do you mean you would sell our home to this fish peddler?"

Rosemary Hamilton, chairman of the ushers, gives last-minute instructions.

On The Stage

Mr. George Smith directed the 1955 play, and Diane Lux was his student-assistant director.

The double cast was as follows: Mrs. Cora Blakely, Jane Fowler, Anne Price; Effie Fuggle, Betty Anderson, Wanda Ruckle; Maggie Murphy, Margie Brown, Marjorie Donahue; Ricky Hobson, Al Pearlman, Ronnie Morgan; Babs Blakely, Monna Cuppy, Mary Shoemaker; Keith Hobson, Maurie Woodworth, Tom Gullion; Janet Blakely, Joanne Schmidt, Joanne Pottlitzer; Edgar Blakely, Dave Jones, Charles Shoemaker; Larry Hobson, Dave Hale, Mike Lane; Gloria Horton, Susan Rostov, Linda McNeely; Mr.

Grant, Clarence Posthauer, Mark Oster; Maude Hobson, Janice Welch, Gail Painter; Tony Smellero, Robert Zaban; Jim Collins, Calvin Dexter; Eddie Brack, John McBeath; Bob Turner, Wally Scheffee; Alma Gilman, Diane Mosier; and Dotty Regan, Anita Sue Thompson.

Many other persons' efforts added to the success of the play. Mr. Gerald Hitchings was head of stage sets. Mr. Ernest Deagan was the technical director. Mr. H. J. Wills handled the lighting. Miss Joyce Randall was in charge of makeup. Mr. Elbert Morgan printed the posters, programs, and tickets.

Jeff's Faculty

Trains Us . . .

Guiding us through our high school career is an unparalleled faculty. We at Jefferson are fortunate to have a staff of teachers so well suited for their work. They have not only broad knowledge, but also the ability to impart this knowledge to the students. Our teachers work unceasingly to better their abilities, some studying at colleges or universities during the summer or along with their regular work.

Co-operation is the characteristic which makes any group outstanding. Our teachers prove their possession of this trait by their willingness to help others. Whether a single student needs advice, another teacher needs a stand-in, or an organization needs a sponsor, a volunteer can be found among our faculty.

Each of our organizations, such as the Hi-Y's, Sunshine Society, Tri-Hi-Y, Spanish and Latin clubs, and the G.A.A., has one or more faculty advisors. Teachers and counselors also sponsor talent shows and class projects. Teachers from different departments head the various acts of the Red and Black Revue.

Jeff students think of their teachers as friends. Gone are the days of the reigning tyrant, who ruled over the classroom with a heavy hand. Our teachers make understanding and patience their rule; this also applies to our administration.

After the sudden death of Mr. Lynn Miller, Mr. Cecil Webb, the former junior high-school principal, stepped up into the position of senior high principal. Mr. Charles Martin, formerly the senior counselor, became principal of the junior high. These men have capably taken on their responsibilities, and have performed their duties well.

We are truly proud of our faculty and administrators, and we are glad we have such competent leaders as part of our training for the future.

School

Mr. J. Russell Hiatt, superintendent, Ball State Teachers, B.S.; Indiana, M.S.

Mr. J. Russell Hiatt, Superintendent of the Lafayette School City, collaborates closely with the Board of Education to keep our school system running smoothly. Mr. Hiatt makes suggestions to the school board and carries out their policies. He recommends the hiring of new teachers, helps the school board work out problems, and acts as the public relations director of the school city.

Mr. George DeVault is president of the Board of Education. Other members are Mr. Gray LeVitt, treasurer; Mr. Russell F. Davis, secretary; Mr. Harry Schultz, and Mr. Harry Murphy. The school city's attorney is Mr. Glen Armstrong. These men devote much time and energy to their work for the schools of Lafayette.

The policies of the school system are determined by the school board. Other duties of these men include appointing the school superintendent, deciding what new schools are needed, and setting the school budget for Lafayette.

Mr. Hiatt and the school board have an extensive task in heading the entire school system of Lafayette, and they work together to achieve an efficient, well-run system.

Lafayette's Board of Education: Mr. Harry P. Armstrong, city attorney; Mr. Harry P. Schultz; Mr. Russell F. Davis, secretary; Mr. George DeVault, president; Mr. Gray LeVitt, treasurer; Mr. Harry Murphy.

Administration

Although our principals are not new to us, they are new in their positions. Mr. Cecil S. Webb, our new senior high school principal, has shown he is capable of accepting all his important responsibilities. One of these is his dealings with public relations. Mr. Webb is also in charge of athletics, our curriculum, and the supervision of instruction and enrollment.

Mr. V. D. Montgomery is our vice-principal. He is in charge of disciplinary action and acts as principal when Mr. Webb is away. He manages the general office and is in charge of attendance.

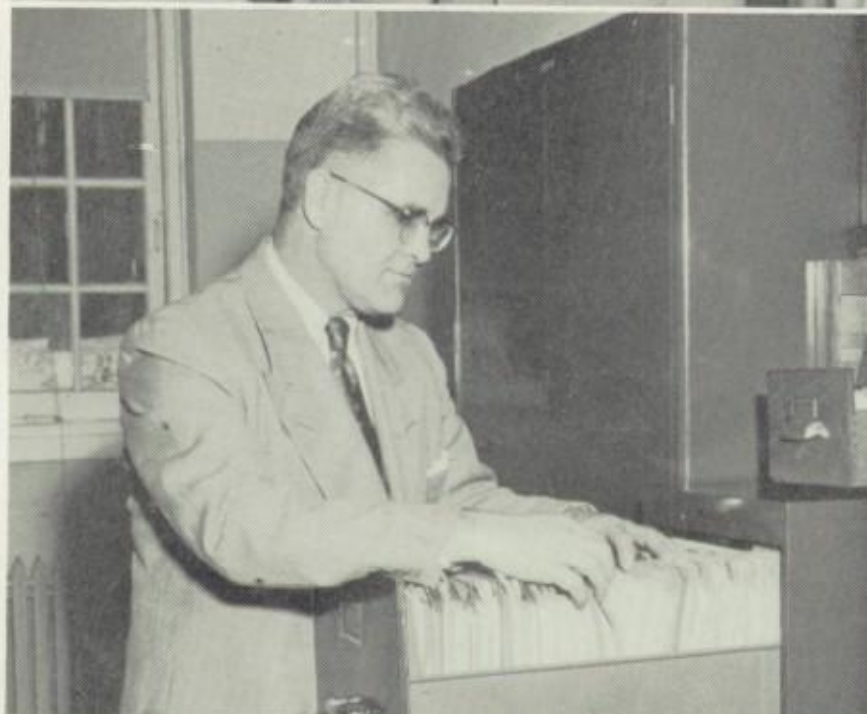

Mr. Charles J. Martin is now principal of our junior high division. He carries out the same duties for the freshmen as Mr. Webb does for the senior high. This year he also acted as senior counselor.

Mr. Harold Askren and Mr. Karl Leffler are vocational director and vocational co-ordinator, respectively. Their job is to supply all students who are not going to college with an adequate vocational course.

These men have a way of getting things done which has won them the respect and admiration of teachers and students alike.

Mr. Cecil S. Webb, principal, Indiana A.B.; A.M.

Mr. Charles J. Martin, junior high principal,
Central Normal, B.S.; Butler, M.S.

Mr. Harold Askren, vocational director; Mr. Karl Leffler, vocational co-ordinator.

Mr. V. D. Montgomery, vice-principal, Indiana, B.S.; M.S.

School

Keeping our school building in "shipshape" are Mr. Glenn Garman, Superintendent of the Physical Plant, and Mr. Albert Critser, Maintenance Superintendent. Their duties are as evidenced by their titles.

Mrs. Betty Torrenga, Jefferson's Attendance Officer, investigates questionable absences of students. It is her duty to see that students are not absent from school without an excuse from the parents because of illness or another legitimate reason.

Health, our most important asset, is guarded by our school nurses. The school health program includes physical examinations for freshmen and various tests to provide protection against defects in health. Among these are ear and eye examinations, chest X-rays, and patch tests for tuberculosis. Along with this important "ounce of prevention", our nurses provide cure when necessary. Mrs. Pauline Gilmer, Mrs. Lydia Farmer, and Miss Louise Wright are prepared for any illness or accident that might occur.

These people behind the scenes at Jeff form an efficient team to assure us our school is functioning properly.

Mr. Albert Critser, maintenance superintendent; Mr. Glen Garman, superintendent of the physical plant.

Mrs. Pauline Gilmer, school nurse.

Mrs. Betty Torrenga, attendance officer.

Mrs. Mary McDowell, cafeteria manager.

Administration

An important part of our "back-stage" crew here at Jefferson is our secretaries. They perform innumerable tasks in making our school run smoothly.

Miss Nancy Bogan is secretary to Superintendent J. Russell Hiatt. She takes care of teachers' personnel records, state reports, and the general business in the superintendent's office. Miss Dora Flatley is the school city's bookkeeper.

Every day each Jeff student is helped in some way by Miss Regina Schrader and Miss Mary Harrington, the secretaries in the general office. They answer telephones, keep records of attendance, issue admits, and make up the bulletins. They also sell tickets to games and other school activities, supply substitutes when teachers are absent, and complete college applications.

An aid to Mr. Marion Crawley is Mrs. Marian Howell, who takes care of tickets for sports events and keeps tourney reports.

Miss Lina Bright, who is Mr. Cecil Webb's secretary, acts as treasurer of the extra-curricular activities at Jeff.

Mrs. Betty Ade assists Mr. Leonard Smith with book rental and library duties.

Miss Dora Flatley, bookkeeper.

Miss Nancy Bogan, Mr. Hiatt's secretary.

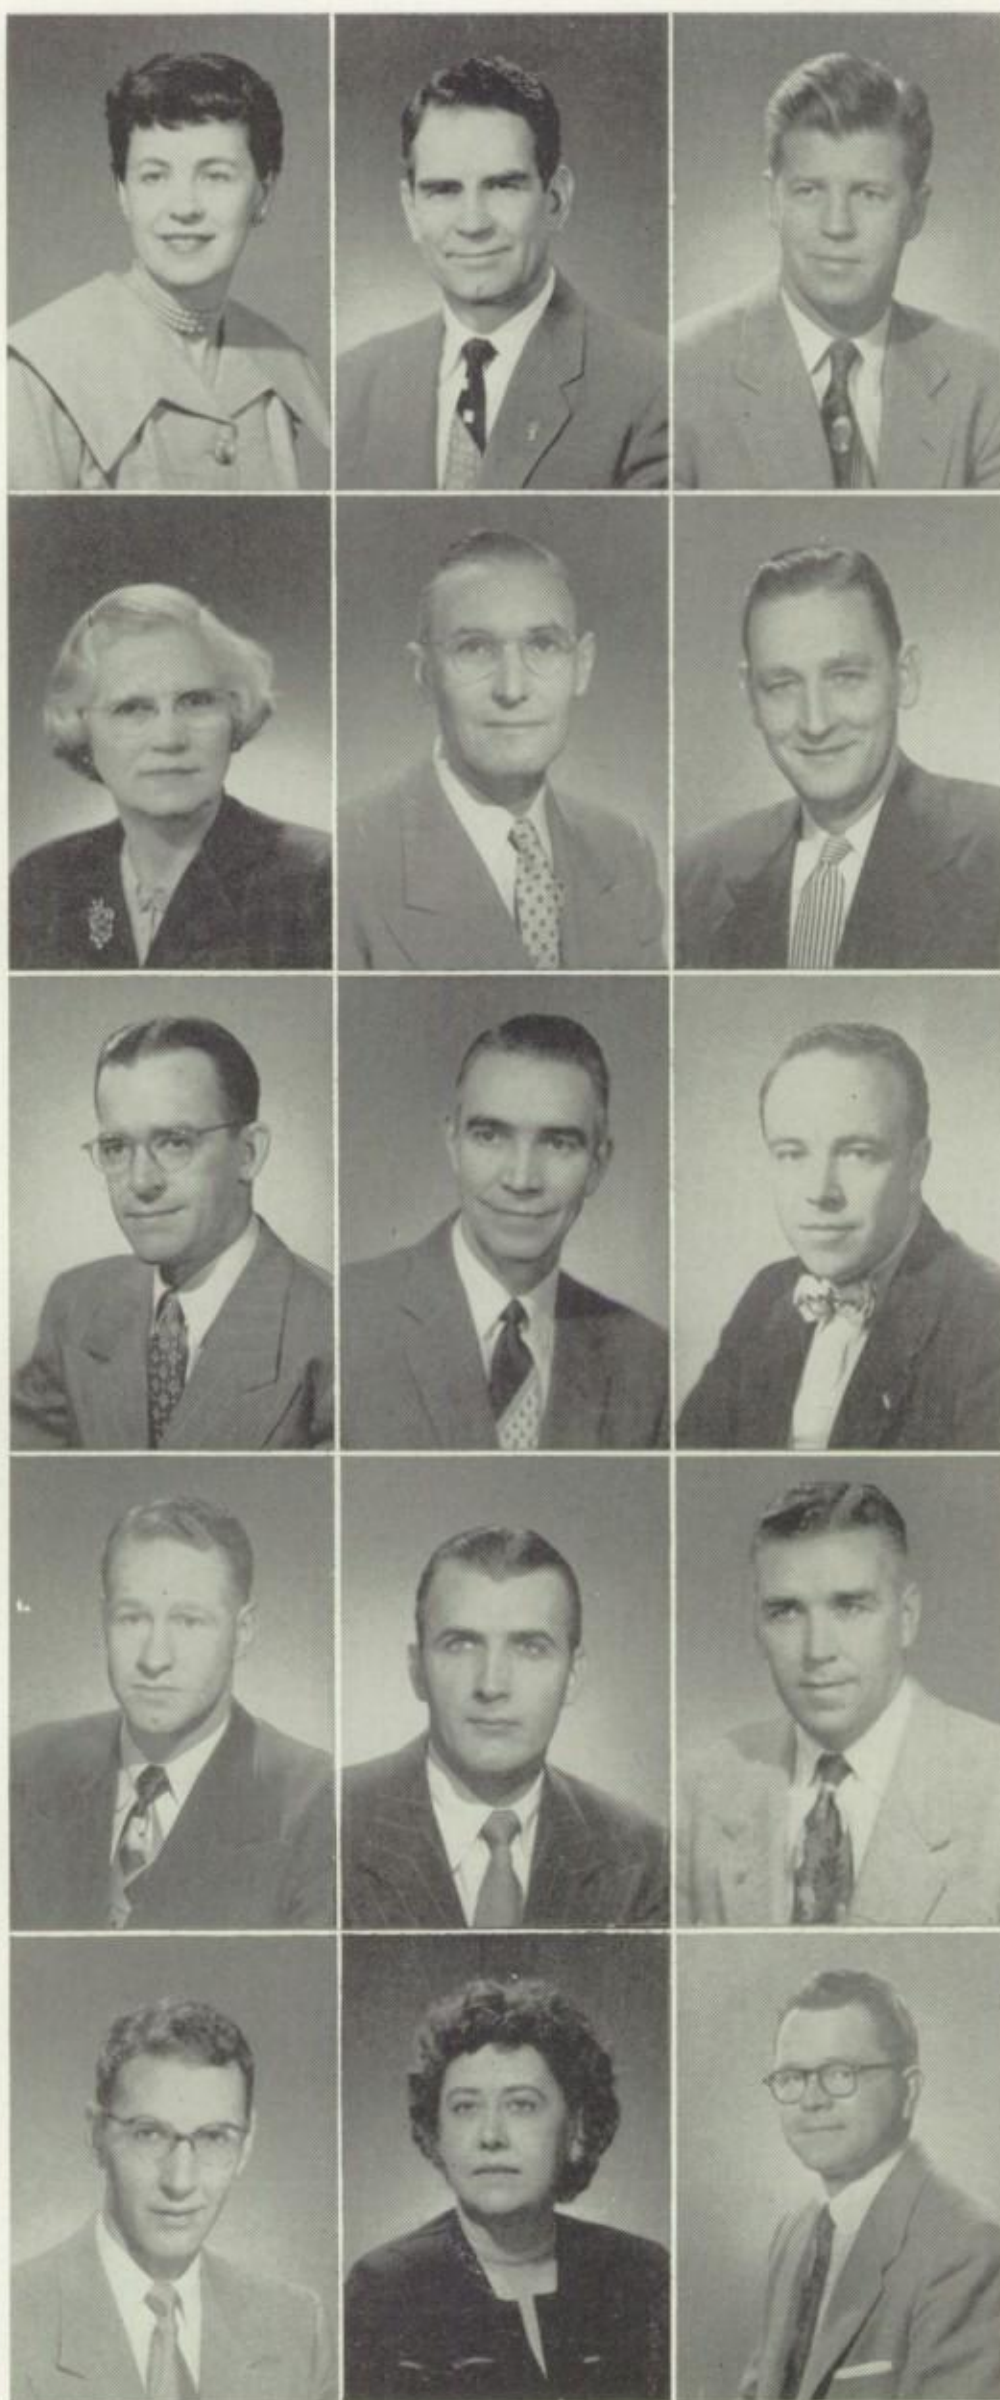

Miss Regina Schrader and Miss Mary Harrington, general office secretaries.

Miss Lina Bright, Mr. Webb's secretary.
Mrs. Ruth Potter, Mr. Martin's secretary.

Mrs. Betty Ade, assistant librarian.
Mrs. Marian Howell, Mr. Crawley's secretary.

Born June 17, 1930, at Potomac, Illinois, Mr. Tom Val Smith was the only child of Mrs. Smith and the late Mr. Val G. Smith.

After coming to West Lafayette in 1939, Mr. Smith attended the West Lafayette schools and graduated there. In 1953 he graduated from Butler University with a degree in education. He also attended Notre Dame University and received a masters degree at Purdue last June.

Even though this was Mr. Smith's first year on our faculty, all regarded him as an outstanding instructor as well as a friend with a pleasing and warm personality.

His tragic death was a great loss to Jefferson High School.

In Memoriam . . .

Mr. Cecil S. Webb, second vice-president; Mr. Charles Martin, third vice-president; Mrs. Thomas Gullion, secretary; Mr. Robert Schmidt, president.

P. T. A.

Many people fail to realize the importance of the Parent Teachers' Association in connection with high school.

This year the organization was under the leadership of Mr. Robert Schmidt, president; Mrs. Willas Parker, vice-president; Mr. Cecil S. Webb, first vice-president; Mr. Charles J. Martin, second vice-president; Mrs. Thomas Gullion, secretary; and Mr. Ellis Hopkins, treasurer.

Jefferson High School's Parent Teachers' Association is a local unit of the National Congress of the Indiana Congress of Parents and Teachers. Our chapter cooperates with the other units in our community through its membership in the Lafayette Council of Parent Teachers' Association.

Meetings are held on the second Thursday evening of every month. In February the P. T. A. had a potluck dinner in the school cafeteria. The March meeting provided a senior panel.

The P. T. A. sponsored a square dance at the new U. S. Armory on South St., January 14, 1955. A box lunch preceded the dance.

Dinner meetings were a special attraction at P.T.A.

Jeff Trains Us To Accept Responsibility . . .

Jeff's many organizations added spice and meaning to a student's life. These organizations played a very important role in providing us entertainment and enjoyment, and even more important to us were the responsibilities they gave us which made us leaders now and for the future. We benefited by their activities by improving ourselves as well as our school.

Let's first look over the social life of our clubs. Sponsoring dances, mixers, picnics, and convocations were some of their diversions which brightened everyday school life. Oh, how we longed for that second hour convo which took the humdrum out of an ordinary school day. Just the dream of a coming dance gave us something really to look forward to. Practically our entire social life whirls right around our high school's organizations.

Every organization has its purpose and it exercises this purpose by its many activities. We found these activities provided us "oodles and oodles" of fun among ourselves, but putting others before ourselves was even more important. We devoted our time, our money, and ourselves in many of our clubs to helping others in various ways. Spreading cheer to others made that cheer appear in us also.

Little did we realize when being initiated into these organizations their important part in our high school days. Lighting that candle at that memorable initiation service lighted the way to a never-to-be-forgotten fellowship.

The picture to the right shows some of the organizations' members fixing the school-wide Christmas baskets for needy families. Turkey with all the trimmings were found in those baskets. Jeff students made their slogan "Seek your highest joy in giving, not in receiving." Those who delivered the baskets realized the importance of that project and they found that joy.

Orchestra

Violins, violas, and other stringed instruments form the heart of the Jefferson Orchestra. The purpose of the orchestra, in addition to providing music on appropriate occasions, is to furnish for its members a chance to play music especially adapted for string instruments.

Our orchestra played for the opening and closing, and accompanied various acts of the Red and Black Revue. Members of the orchestra participated in the 1955 version of "Hoof-Beats".

On October 11, 1954, the orchestra displayed its talents on the "Community Views" television program. Music for the annual Christmas Concert and the Christmas Convo was supplied by the orchestra, along with the other musical organizations of the school. These same groups co-operated to present the annual Spring Concert.

President of the orchestra this year was Arnold Yarno. David Culross was vice-president, and served as concert master and student director. Mr. Richard W. Bowles directs the orchestra, and Miss Nellie Lee Slayback acts as string consultant for the group.

Do you play a violin, cello, or perhaps a trombone or French horn? If you play any instrument used in an orchestra, you would enjoy performing with the members of the Jefferson Orchestra.

Does everyone have the right key?

"White Christmas" set the mood for the Christmas Concert.

Mr. Bowles wields the baton for the Concert Band.

Concert Band

After the football season, the Football Band divided into Varsity Band and Concert Band. These two bands played for parades, concerts, and contests.

The Concert Band played for the annual Christmas Concert, the Christmas Convo, and the Spring Concert, and they will give a concert at Columbian Park in June. With the Varsity Band, they marched in the Santa Claus Parade and Purdue Band Day.

The Concert Band went to Indianapolis for the State Band Contest in April. Band members who had enough points took a trip to Chicago.

The band and the orchestra presented "Hoof-Beats" in February, starring members of the musical organizations.

Varsity Band

That rousing march or boogie beat you hear pouring from the band room each second hour is a rehearsal of the Jefferson Varsity Band. This band's job is to play for home basketball games, rallies, and anything of a marching nature.

On October 9, 1954, the Varsity Band joined the Concert Band and many other bands of the area in marching and playing for the Purdue Band Day. The bands again joined forces to march in the Santa Claus Parade before Christmas.

The Varsity Band performed for American Legion Veterans' Day, November 11, 1954. The Spring Concert was the Varsity Band's only concert appearance.

Mr. Richard W. Bowles, the director of the band, was aided by Jerry Brenner, senior officer, who acted as student director.

Football and basketball games would not seem right without the band and the majorettes. Jeff's twirlers were Barbara Pitman, captain; Shirley Howard, Darlene Cook, and Judy McCord.

Now blow on the downbeat.

Varsity band peps up a basketball game with the "Broncho Pep Song."

a Cappella Choir

Mr. Russell C. Pett, the new a Cappella Choir director, has done an excellent job this year. The fifty-one members of the choir have presented many successful programs.

The choir's engagements before Christmas included the annual Christmas Concert in the gym, an appearance on WFAM-TV, the Christmas Convo for the student body, and singing in the Christmas Parade.

Other appearances included the finale of the Red and Black Revue, "Hoof-Beats", the Sunshine mother-daughter banquet and the Y.W.C.A. Conference.

The choir sang in a Choral Festival at Purdue, the Spring Festival at Greencastle, and the All-State Chorus at Indianapolis. They also went to Bloomington to sing on the Indiana University campus.

Section leaders were Joyce Longren, soprano; Julie Kalberer, alto; Al Pearlman, tenor; and Stan Kingma, bass. Karen Wingham was accompanist; Mary Ann Rose was student director.

The choir marches in singing for the Christmas Convo.

Mr. Pett directs one of the choir's favorite numbers—"High Noon."

Choralairs

Although the Choralairs provides a chance to sing for fun and study, the primary purpose of this mixed choral group is to train future a Cappella Choir members.

The members of the Choralairs were chosen by try-outs, and included approximately fifty students, freshmen through seniors. This group met three hours a week as a regularly scheduled class, and members also participated in sectional rehearsals once a week before school.

Major activities of the Choralairs this year included the Christmas Concert, Christmas Convocation, the Choral Festival at Greencastle, and the Spring Choral Concert in our auditorium.

To raise money while having fun, the Choralairs, along with the Girls' Glee Club, sponsored skating parties at the Aca Y Alla roller rink.

Choralairs functions as a club, with Mr. Russell C. Pett as its sponsor and director. Joe Rodocker was president; Bob Kemble, vice-president; and Bob Schweitzer, secretary-treasurer. Accompanist for the Choralairs was Mona Gookins.

Girls' Glee Club

Forty-five girls sang choral music for enjoyment and for training in the Girls' Glee Club. Sophomore, junior, and senior girls were chosen by try-outs, and the membership grew steadily all year.

The Glee Club participated in the Christmas Convo, Choral Festival at Greencastle, and the Spring Choral Concert. They sang three-part women's numbers and joined with other groups to sing four-part music.

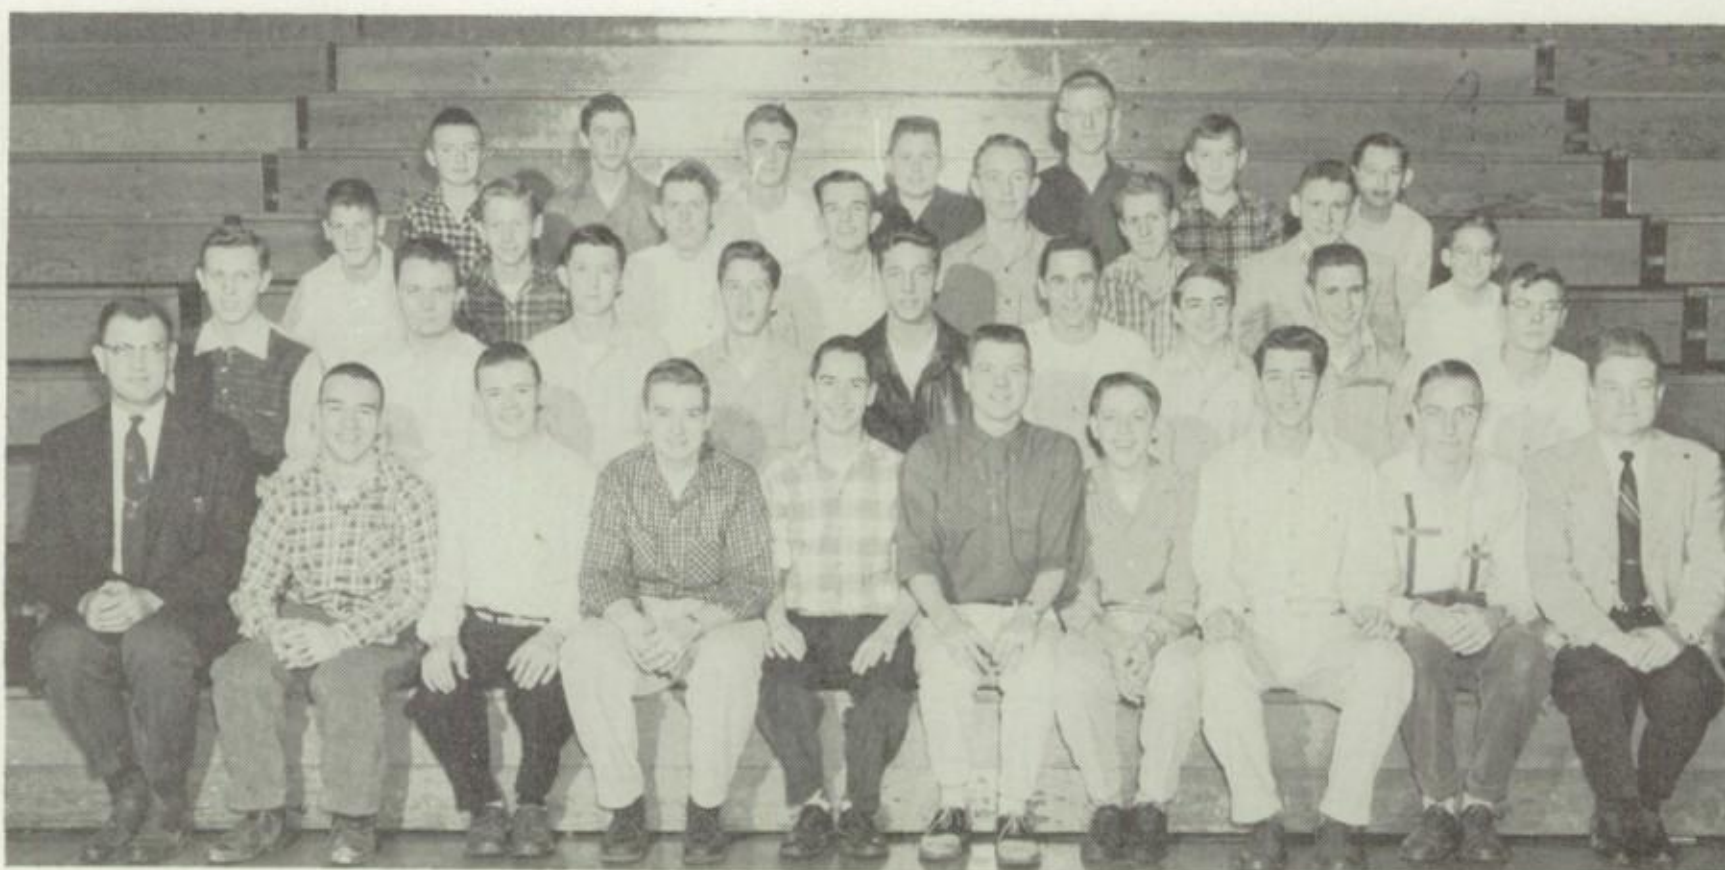

Three hours a week are scheduled for the Glee Club. The girls' music can be heard coming from the music room during fifth hour each Monday, Wednesday, and Friday. Functioning as a club, the Glee Club has sponsored or co-sponsored with Choralairs several social events, such as skating parties, to raise funds.

Mr. Russell C. Pett directs and sponsors the Glee Club. Mona Jean Gookins accompanies this organization.

These girls were training for future membership in other choral organizations and were having fun singing at the same time.

Audio-Visual

Of great importance to our school is the Audio-Visual Club. This is a service club for the purpose of helping teachers and students better utilize audio-visual materials.

Every hour of each school day there was an elected head stationed in the library who assigned the members to operate the equipment in use that period. Sometimes there were as many as six films to be shown in one hour, not including the record player, wire and tape recorder, and slide film projectors.

Other activities this year included sponsoring a mixer, helping with the Christmas baskets, and furnishing boys to work at concessions at the basketball games.

Ken O'Maley was elected president of the Audio-Visual Club. Serving as vice-president was Alan Rusk. Phil Denhardt was secretary-treasurer.

Mr. L. W. Smith and Mr. R. W. Levering were sponsors.

Library Assistants

"Books make good friends" is the belief of the library assistants and they promote their belief by encouraging the reading of books among Jeff students.

Most of the members in the Library Assistants' Club have had experience helping in the library. The members check attendance, card and shelve books, process new books, and run errands. Meetings are held every Thursday morning during homeroom.

Besides library duties these student librarians have many other activities. The library assistants sponsor "Book Week" and put up a display in the library; they also provide the displays for the plays and programs of the dramatic classes. At Christmas the Club sponsored a tea and book display for the faculty members. The Club attended a conference at Ball State. Money for the club is earned by having mixers.

Library Assistants for the year were president, Donna Habben; vice-president, Judy Cuppy; and secretary-treasurer, Susan Rostov.

Mr. L. W. Smith, Jeff librarian, is sponsor of this club which is affiliated with the state-wide Hoosier Student Librarian Association.

Performers Club

Recognition of speech work, other than in the classroom, is the purpose of the year old Performers Club, which is under the direction of Mrs. Jane Williams.

To become a member of the Performers, a student must have a total of ten points. These points are obtained by entering the various contests throughout the school year and by taking part in other speech activities.

The club established a speech recognition this year on January 13, 1955. The charter members were Maurie Woodworth, Eugenia Criswell, Freida Klein, and Calvin Dexter along with the executive board consisting of Martin Flynn, Susan Rostov, and Pequetti Wilhauck. The new members were Joanne Pottlitzer, Jim Blosser, Joanne Schmidt, Jim Peake, Phil Burgess, Mack Wootton, Gwen Evans, Myrna Silvers, Jack Ward, Mike Lane, and Vivian Forster.

Members of Performers were also honored at a speech banquet in the spring.

Congratulations! You are now a full-fledged Performer.

Student Council

As the congressional governing body represents the people in the United States government, our Student Council's similar purpose is to bring a closer relationship among the students, faculty, and administration.

Every homeroom was represented at the council's Wednesday morning meetings. At these meetings, problems are discussed and solved. The administration and faculty were always ready to help and give advice.

This year's Student Council's officers were president, Mike Costello; vice-president, Dick Crosser; secretary, Paulene Minneman; assistant secretary, Mary Clare Finley; and treasurer, Bill Davis.

The sponsors of the Student Council were Mrs. Marian Gettings, Mr. Ernest Cortner, and Mr. Milt Leverenz.

This organization also gives the student another important asset, that of participating in a democratic way of life. It is certain that with organizations like this we will be better citizens in our future lives.

Booster Staff

"Bigger and Better" seemed to be the motto of this year's BOOSTER staff since our high school newspaper became just what this slogan advocated.

The BOOSTER became larger when it added a column in width and one and a half inches in length. Another big change was that the staff members no longer received credit. Belonging to the BOOSTER staff is now extracurricular.

To belong to the BOOSTER is considered an honor. First, one must have taken a semester of journalism; then he must be chosen by the Editorial Board which consists of the editor, assistant editor, associate editor, news editor, feature editor, and sports editor. One's interest and ability determines his position on the staff.

A special BOOSTER Convocation introduced the sales campaign early at the beginning of the school year. Marty Flynn, editor of the BOOSTER, acted as Master of Ceremonies of the BOOSTER Beauty Contest. Mr. Bill Fraser, radio and history teacher, and Norma Becht danced the "jitterbug" and were awarded first prize, which was the first BOOSTER. After the convo, free BOOSTERS were passed out. This year's sales campaign proved to be very successful as their subscription total reached 1207.

All-American rating, the highest honor given high school newspapers by the National Scholastic Press Association, was awarded the BOOSTER for the first semester of this school year.

Quill and Scroll, National Honorary Society for High School Journalists, awarded the Jeff BOOSTER the International First Place Award for the second semester of the last school year. This award goes to high school newspapers showing substantial achievements during the semester.

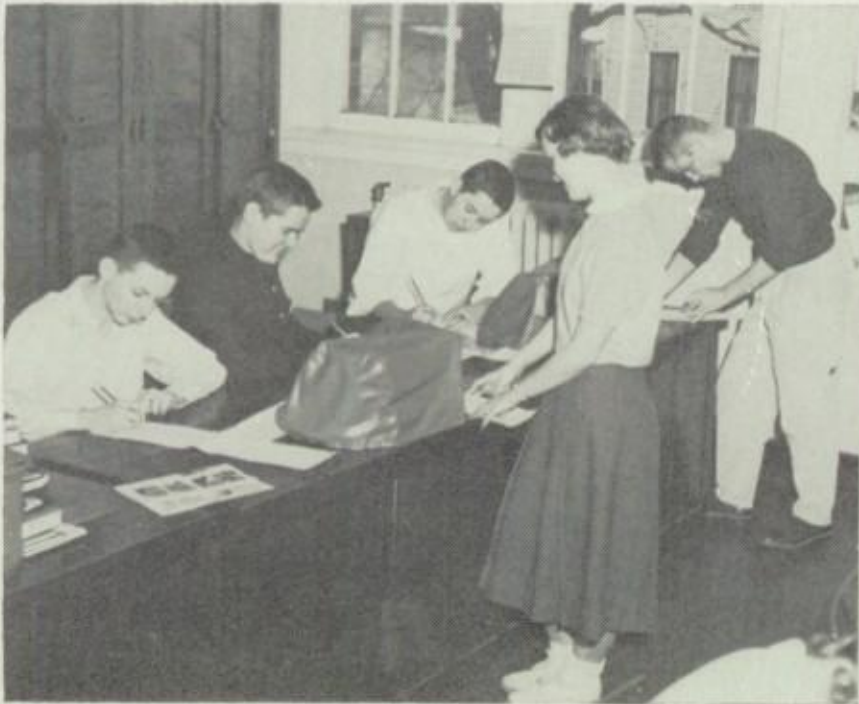

Many of the staff members attended the Wabash Valley Press Conference at Terre Haute and the Franklin Conference at Franklin, Indiana. Sue Bussell, this year's associate editor, was elected secretary of the Indiana High School Press Association for next year at the Franklin Conference.

The "flying journalists" were still in the air this year as they made two trips to two cities to visit their newspapers. The trips in order of preference were made by the BOOSTER staff, beginning journalists, printers, and students. October 28, 1954, was the date of the visit to the Milwaukee Journal at Milwaukee, Wisconsin. The second semester the "winged-journalists" visited the Detroit News, April 19, 1955, at Detroit, Michigan.

Mr. C. J. Hopkins is advisor of the BOOSTER. Printing advisor is Mr. Elbert F. Morgan.

Bronc Hi-Y

With a platform of "clean speech, clean sports, clean scholarship, and clean living," the Bronc Hi-Y is an active boys' club at Jeff.

This year the boys' activities included a fall hayride, a party, a spring picnic, and formal initiation ceremonies. They also conducted an initiation for a Junior Hi-Y organization at Sunnyside. The club sold athletic pins and operated a concession stand at the home football games.

The Bronc Hi-Y adopted a family at Christmas and supplied them with food and gifts. Some of the boys acted as guides for visitors at Jeff during "American Education Week."

Officers were Mack Wootton, president; Hugh Robertson, vice-president; Albert Pearlman, secretary; Dave Hawkins, treasurer; Maurice Woodworth, chaplain; and Wally Scheffee, sergeant-at-arms. Mr. Ellis Hopkins and Mr. Tom Smith were faculty sponsors.

Reverend Earl Heimburger spoke at the Christmas convo, sponsored by the Jeff Hi-Y.

Jeff Hi-Y

This boys' organization sponsored the Thanksgiving, Christmas, and Easter Religious Convo's. Many of the members helped put up the Christmas tree in the school hall. The club also had a Christmas party. The annual Queen of Hearts Dance, looked forward to by everyone at Jeff, was very successful. The club helped at commencement and vespers this year. The Hi-Y members helped deliver Christmas baskets and also served as guides for visitors at Jeff during

Tri-Hi-Y

Tri-Hi-Y, a girls' organization, did well this year in its purpose, "to create, maintain, and extend throughout the home, school, and community, high standards of Christian character."

At a candle-light service held at the Y.W.C.A. on November 29, 1954, over one hundred girls became new members. The Tri-Hi-Y emblem, which was made this year, was introduced and its meaning explained.

For the first time the Tri-Hi-Y held the "Halloween Masquerade Ball" at the Y.W.C.A. from nine to twelve, October 30, 1954. Bob Helm and Marcia Hanf were crowned king and queen. It is hoped that the dance will be a tradition for years to come. Joanne Schmidt and Mary Ann Rose were chairmen of the dance.

Fifty girls worked at the Mars, Luna, and Lafayette theaters, collecting money for the March of Dimes. This amounted to $537. Another group of girls also took a district of town and helped with the door-to-door campaign.

The Tri-Hi-Y joined with Sunshine in caroling at the hospitals, nursing homes, and state institutions near Christmas time. Afterwards, the girls returned to school for refreshments.

This active organization sponsored "The World Day of Prayer" Convo, February 26, 1955. Reverend Fred Allen, of the Vinton Presbyterian Church, was speaker. His topic was entitled "Why Pray?"

Twenty-five dollars was contributed to a Y.W.C.A. scholarship.

This year's officers who were Sue Bussell, president; Donna Habben, vice-president; Madelyn Sexton, treasurer; Margaret Lynch, secretary; Judy Spiker, chaplain; and Marsha Vance, sergeant-at-arms, attended a district meeting of Hi-Y's at Monon, Indiana, September 26, 1954.

Mrs. Edythe VanCamp was sponsor of the Tri-Hi-Y organization which is affiliated with the National Y.W.C.A.

Any girl at Jeff is entitled to become a member of this organization if she is interested in its functions and willing to participate in its activities.

Y-Teens

Girls who are initiated into Y-Teens are joining a religious organization, a branch of the Young Women's Christian Association. Jeff's Y-Teens have planned many activities throughout the year, many of which took place at the newly-remodeled YWCA building.

On December 5, 1954, a Recognition Service was held at the YWCA, with Donna Hall in charge. At this service, which was an initiation for all Y-Teens of the city, Mr. Miller, Mr. Webb, and Mr. Linville were made honorary members.

Each Thursday after school the Y-Teens met to plan their projects. To raise money, the girls held some mixers at the "Y." In the spring they all tried their hands at bowling.

Mrs. Emily Price was faculty sponsor for the Y-Teens, and worked with Mrs. Shu from the YWCA. Donna Hall was president, and Ruth Corean was vice-president. Irene Dickson elected secretary, Shirley Slopsema treasurer and Carol Barton chaplain.

J Club

Practically every Jeff boy's goal is to be the proud owner of a block "J," the award given to a boy for his skill in the field of sports during his high school career.

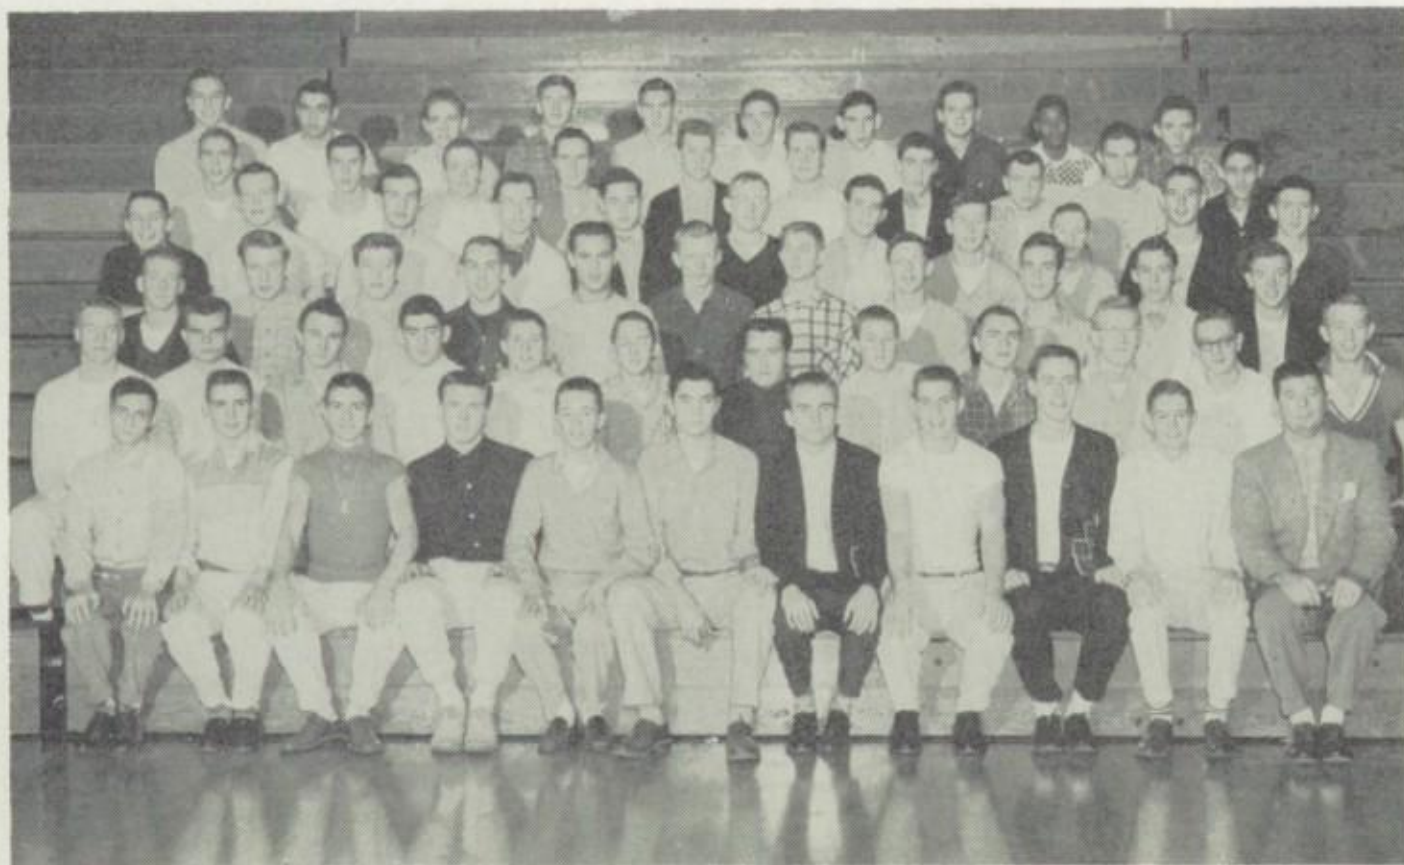

Under the leadership of Coach Marion Crawley the J Club has a double motto. The members try to develop and maintain a high standard of citizenship and school morale, and also encourage and support all school activities.

If you have ever wondered who the boys are holding the ropes and sweeping the floors at the basketball games the answer is the members of the J Club. The club also helped with a pep session by furnishing four outstanding cheerleaders who fascinated the student body with their flips, cartwheels, and originality. With other boys organizations the J Club served as guides for visitors during "American Education Week." Other activities include sponsoring mixers and having annual picnics. The All Sports Spring Banquet is the highlight of the year.

This year's officers were Jim Holladay, president; Mike LeVitt, vice-president; and Ed Becker, secretary-treasurer.

Society

With love in my heart, forgetting self, and with charity for all, I will make the object of my life helpfulness and kindness to others. I shall try to fit myself to give intelligent service in making my community a safer and more beautiful place in which to live. Thus will my life become rich and complete. The purpose of the Sunshine Society could not be expressed any better than by the words of the Sunshine Creed.

Under the leadership of sponsor Miss Martha Nash, and president, Susan Rostov; vice-president, Paulene Minneman; secretary, Mary Ann Rose; and treasurer, Carol Risk, the Sunshine girls were kept very busy with the society's countless projects and activities.

The Sunshine year began with formal initiation, September 16, 1954. Betty Anderson was chairman.

Jane Fowler was chairman of the annual Gallop held at Allen's Ballroom on October 3, 1954.

On January 21, the Union Building's South Ballroom was the scene of the Mother-Daughter Banquet.

The annual Valentine party for the Cary Home children was held February 11, 1955, at which they were presented gifts from the Sunshine members. Games were played and refreshments were served. Wilma Eldridge was chairman. A party was held also for the crippled children of Lincoln.

This year the Sunshine Room was redecorated. Connie Krabbe and Ellen Wellman were co-chairmen. Sandra Garman was chairman of sending get-well cards throughout the year.

Candy was sold by the Sunshine girls to earn money for Riley Hospital. Roberta Bennet was chairman of this project. Betty Lou Anderson sold the most cans, one hundred thirty-four.

Jeff's Sunshine Society was hostess to twenty-five hundred girls at the State Convention on April 2. Ann Price and Joanne Pottlitzer were state vice-president and corresponding secretary.

This year a nurses' scholarship was set up for any Jeff girl qualifying for it.

The Sunshine Society, which previously has been open only to sophomores, juniors, and seniors, this year started a junior Sunshine organization for Freshmen.

Spanish Club

¿Son ustedes familia con los costumbres y las tradiciones espanoles? This question asks if you are familiar with Spanish customs and traditions. If your answer is no, but that you would like to become acquainted with Spanish subjects, then the Spanish Club is the club for you, if you have taken or are taking Spanish.

Many special activities were enjoyed throughout the school year. Breaking the piñata filled with candy and eating rosca de reyes (Mexican Christmas cake) highlighted the annual Spanish Christmas party. This Mexican cake contained two dolls; it is a Spanish custom that the two people receiving them must have a party for all members. During Pan American week in April the Spanish Club had a dinner featuring the Latin American Menu. This dinner acquainted the members with actual Spanish food, which was very hot. Thoughts were again turned to food at the spring picnic.

This year the Spanish Club sponsored their Mardi Gras dance, held at Allen's ballroom on March 26, 1955. Joanne Pottlitzer was chairman of this dance.

Miss Wahneta Mullen, Spanish teacher, was sponsor.

Officers this year were Dave Lux, president; Ricki Gillaspy, vice-president; Joanne Pottlitzer, secretary; and Susan Rostov, treasurer.

Latin Club

When in Rome or in Latin Club, do as the Romans do. Latin students came to the Roman Christmas banquet in togas, tunics, or other Roman garb, and presented skits portraying Roman customs. At this banquet, the highlight of the club's year, food was served in traditional Roman style, and entertainment was provided by comedies and the music of the Jefferson Dance Band.

At the regular meetings, held once each month, Balfe Wagner presided. Other officers were Sue Swezey, vice-president; Judy Beckstrand, secretary; and Carolyn Blind, treasurer. After the business session at each meeting there was a program of films, pictures, or plays written, directed, and produced by the students. Refreshments were a welcome addition to some of the meetings.

Near the end of the second semester, the club had a picnic for all the members.

The object of the Latin Club is to promote better understanding of Roman ways and customs and to help create interest in Latin, as well as to have a good time.

Block Section

"Rah! Rah! Rah!" Jeff's Block Section kept cheering the basketball team on through every home game, adding excitement to the games and boosting the players' morale. The one hundred eighty-two girls formed letters spelling the opponents' names or "Bronchos" and presented special arrangements of yells and songs.

Besides contributing to the singing of the Jeff school song, the girls of the Block Section sang the Broncho fight song, "Frankie and Johnnie", "Bronchos, Bring Us a Dream", and others. The band joined the Block Section in performing many of these.

This year the girls wore red sweaters, white collars, and white gloves, making a bright spot in the gym at every home game. For some games they waved colorful pom-poms or held cards to make letters.

Paulene Minneman, senior, was captain of the Block Section, and Mary Ann Rose was junior co-captain. This year, for the first time, a governing board helped the captains make decisions concerning the Block Section. The governing board consisted of Carol Risk, Mary Shoemaker, Etta Stichter, Sue Leaming, Linda Isfalt, and Helen DeLong. Miss Carolyn Griffin was the faculty sponsor.

Many people think that the spirit of the Block Section helped the team get that wonderful record, as well as to make the games interesting. That is exactly the aim of the Block Section!

Strike! A bowling league member adds some additional points to his score. Those high scores come from practice, and this is provided by membership in the Jeff Bowling League. Sixteen students bowled at the Lafayette Bowling Alley each Thursday from 3:30 until 5:30. The bowling year ended April 28, 1955.

Mr. Richard Thoennes was the sponsor of the Bowling League. Ora Strong was president, and Leslie Tucker was secretary-treasurer.

Four teams compose the League and these teams competed with one another. Played in this manner, the game develops a high degree of sportsmanship and companionship. Heading the teams were Ora Strong, Leslie Tucker, Dave Houston, and Michael Klinker.

Ora Strong led the bowlers with an average game score of 185 and the highest individual set score of 608. John Rohr came in second on both game and set. Ora Strong held the record for the highest game scored in the league, 242, and his team headed the league with 1600 as their average set score.

The Jeff Bowling League certainly accomplishes its goal, which is to have fun while giving young people interested in the game a chance to bowl in competition.

One strike coming up!

G. A. A.

G. A. A. formal initiation was a solemn occasion.

To stimulate participation in girls' athletics and promote ideals of health and sportsmanship is the purpose of the Girls' Athletic Association. The members of this club fulfill their goals by participating in activities such as soccer, basketball, volleyball, bowling, swimming, tennis, badminton, and archery after school every Tuesday and Friday.

Good sportsmanship is especially developed by joining with other schools in playing these many sports. G. A. A. sponsored a "Play Day" on February 19, 1955, which was attended by West Lafayette, Attica, Delphi, Lebanon, and Crawfordsville. The sports played were basketball and volleyball.

Several girls of this organization attended a sports clinic held at Purdue University early in the year. The clinic's sports were badminton and swimming.

Verda Brittingham and Patty Crockett represented the Jeff's Girls' Athletic Association at the Indiana G. A. A. Leadership camp held at Tecumseh Camp early this fall. The camp lasted two days.

This year's presiding officers were Verda Brittingham as president with Roberta Bennett serving as vice-president. Patsy Creech was secretary with Helen Mink handling the treasurer's job.

Miss Joanne Jonas served her first year of sponsoring this girls' organization, which offers much enjoyment while participating in various sports.

Master Machinist Club

Stage work, running spotlights, operating gym lights, and making many school repairs are among the activities of the Master Machinist Club sponsored by Mr. Harold J. Wills.

"To foster a close tie between local industry and vocational machine and to co-operate with all departments of the high school" is the important purpose of this club, a noted Jeff organization.

Displays of the club's work were sent to the Superintendent's Conference at Purdue, and a display of the same was in a local downtown store.

Every year five students are sent on special trips to observe the operation of different machines.

President of the Master Machinist Club was Jack Steil, with vice-president, Gary Thayer; secretary, Dick Rogers; treasurer, James McMurray; and sergeant-at-arms, Marvin Phillips.

Other members of the club were Bill Bennett, Jerry Bone, Jim Bradbury, Charles Conn, Gordon DeYoung, Kenneth Hahn, Gordon Hileman, Duane Koch, Gordon Meyers, Jim Nance, Donald Richardson, John Siemers, and Paul Yoakum.

A trip to the Cincinnati Milling Machine Company in Ohio and a trip to Chicago topped off the year.

Future Teachers of America

One of the few but most important vocational clubs at Jeff is the Future Teachers of America. This club is an organization for all students interested in teaching. Membership is open to any high school student having average grades and a good citizenship record. The F.T.A. is a nationwide organization having been chartered by the National Education Association at Washington, D. C.

Meetings are held in the school library on the first and third Wednesdays of each month. At the meetings, club members participated in panel discussions, and had guest speakers. One of the most important projects was the trip taken to an Indiana teachers college. Picnics and parties were also enjoyed throughout the year.

That old saying, "Experience is the best teacher," was illustrated by two junior members of the club. Sue Manis and Phyllis Collen assisted kindergarten teachers one hour a day at Centennial grade school. Practice teaching prepares students for the future and acquaints them with an excellent background of this essential vocation.

Mr. Raymond Bender, social studies teacher, was advisor of F.T.A.

This year's officers were president, Sue Manis; vice-president, Phyllis Collen; secretary, Janet Polstra; and treasurer, Ruth Ann Alkire.

Commercial Club

Rosalie Brown, secretary; Pat Button, president; Mr. Andrews and Mr. Ade, sponsors; Carol Gingrich, vice-president; Nancy Funk, treasurer.

Under the sponsorship of Mr. James Ade and Mr. Kenneth Andrews, the Commercial Club of Jeff had numerous activities this year.

The ACA Y ALLA skating rink was the scene of a club skating party on April 11, 1955. A trip to Chicago also in April was the finale of the year.

At Thanksgiving time a food basket was given to a needy family. The club also helped with the school-wide Christmas Basket Project.

This organization financed its activities by having bake sales in the winter and candy sales in the gym balcony throughout the year.

The Commercial Club is composed of students taking commercial subjects in school. Pat Button was elected president with Carol Gingrich assisting her as vice-president. Rosalie Brown took over the secretary's duties while Nancy Funk filled the treasurer's job. The club's reporter was Carolyn Aker and Gloria Goss served as her assistant.

Here is a tip and a little advice: Join the Commercial Club if you type or transcribe. Good times are guaranteed; the best thing to do is join it and see!

"Service" is the byword of the Junior Red Cross. In all their projects—filling gift boxes, entertaining old folks, or washing windshields—service is their primary objective.

Activities of the Junior Red Cross include collecting funds and filling gift boxes to be sent to children overseas. Before canvassing homerooms, J.R.C. members presented a convo, demonstrating the services of the Jeff council in previous years.

These past projects were repeated this year, along with some new ones. Valentine favors were made for the hospitals, and a talent show was given at the local homes for old people. To help with the adult Red Cross drive in February, several Jeff students washed the windshields of cars parked in the downtown area and put cards on them saying, "We hope you can see your way clear to give to the Red Cross."

Janet Pearlman was elected a member of the Eastern Area Council of Junior Red Cross members. These eleven "J.R.C.'ers" from seventeen states met twice in Alexandria, Virginia, to advise the Junior Red Cross Directors. At the December meeting Janet was elected alternate delegate to the national J.R.C. convention.

Nautilus Staff

One of the most treasured possessions of any Jeff graduate, who enjoys reminiscing over "the good ole' days," is the NAUTILUS, our yearbook.

The NAUTILUS is a collection of pictures, events, and stories of the Jefferson high school year, all compounded into one book. Years from now we'll still get a thrill out of looking back and taking a peek into those never-to-be-forgotten days.

To us who were on the NAUTILUS staff this year, the yearbook meant even more. It represented a lot of hard work, but work we wouldn't have given up for anything else in the world.

The 1955 NAUTILUS started to take form way back in May of 1954. The final polishes were still being done in March. It took the combined efforts of every staff member and the advisor to publish this year's book. This year's staff was smaller than last year's. Besides his own duty, every staff member helped each other. Mr. James Ade, the NAUTILUS advisor, did a wonderful job as usual, giving advice and aiding the staff in every way.

The hardest assignment fell to Margaret Lynch, the editor. It was her job to put the book together. Hugh Robertson, assistant editor, sold the photo ads in the back of the book.

The copy was written by Marsha Vance, literary editor, and Helen DeLong, assistant literary editor.

Helen DeLong and Karen Jones spent many hours writing captions.

Jack Ward, business manager, taking care of the subscriptions and payments, handled all the money.

Mack Wootton, sports editor, wrote the sport stories and organized the sport section.

The big job of typing fell on our secretary, Karen Jones.

All of the photo-ads and many of the pictures that appear in the book were taken by Phil Denhardt.

The advertising staff under Mr. Elbert Morgan consisted of Don Easterbrook, Don McConnell, Richard Rawles, and Joe King.

One big change in this year's book was the omission of the seventh and eighth grades because of the building of Sunnyside, the new junior high. Sunnyside published a yearbook of its own. Even though we lost quite a few potential subscribers, we were still able to reach a high goal of 1400.

Besides just putting out the NAUTILUS, the staff members have many activities. The staff attended the Wabash Valley Press Conference held at Indiana State Teachers College on October 8, 1954. Some of the staff also attended a two-day conference at Franklin College. A spring picnic was the grand finale of the school year.

Advertising is really a bargain.

Be careful and do it right.

Smile pretty for the birdie.

Jeff Trains Us To Attain Sportsmanship . . .

It is a very important role in the school year that sports play here at Jeff. The students attending Jefferson High School have set up for themselves one of the finest high school sports programs in the state. Altogether, there are nine sports in which a boy can participate. With such a well-rounded program, many students have the opportunity to take part in some sport.

Football and cross-country are the main attractions in the fall. Then, with the coming of winter, such sports as basketball, wrestling, and swimming enter into the spotlight. In the spring, all eyes turn to tennis, track, golf, and baseball.

Through the years, the citizens of Lafayette have observed a number of boys begin their sports careers at Jefferson and continue them through college and sometimes even further into the field of professional sports.

When one thinks of sports, many times he thinks only of the physical strength involved and of the season record of a certain sport. However, we must also consider the numerous other advantages and accomplishments of sports from the standpoint of mental strength and character. While participating in sports, a boy receives a valuable lesson in learning how to get along with others. Co-ordination and mental alertness are gained through conditioning in sports. Also, an item which we must not forget is sportsmanship. This, too, is learned and practiced in our sports program.

Along with our regular seasonal sports, we have other activities which could be included when we talk of our sports program. Two of these are the Bowling League and the Girls' Athletic Association. Since the girls do not have all of the different sports set up for them, many of them take part in and belong to this club.

Thus, when we hear the word "sports", let's not forget such important factors as mental strength, character, and sportsmanship.

Coaches

Head Coach Marion Crawley looks over a basketball schedule, thinking perhaps, "We'll have to work hard to win those games."

Mr. Norman Willey is head wrestling coach, and he assists in football and baseball. Mr. James Lyboul coaches varsity baseball, frosh football, and B-team basketball.

Mr. Charles Hopkins is assistant freshman football, assistant B basketball, and freshman track coach. Cross-country and track are coached by Mr. Orval Martin.

Mr. Gerald Clark is the tennis coach. Mr. Harry Green is assistant coach for B basketball, freshman basketball, and varsity football. Mr. Roger Claseman is assistant wrestling and assistant football coach. Mr. John Lazar coaches golf, B football, and frosh basketball.

Varsity Football

Heading the exit of fall sports, football proved to be very successful this year, with a record of 5 wins, 2 losses, and 2 ties. Plowing through a tough schedule, the Broncs were on the move as they rolled up high scores against most of their opponents.

The Jeffmen had a little trouble getting started as they tied Central Catholic of Fort Wayne, 6 to 6, in the first game of the season. With this in mind they trampled Frankfort, 39 to 0, in the next week's encounter. Traveling to Kokomo, the grid men chalked up their second victory by defeating Kokomo, 19 to 13, and, unable to be stopped, they rolled over mighty Indianapolis Cathedral with a score of 13 to 0.

It was at this point that the going got a little rough. After traveling to South Bend to wage a fierce, tying, 6 to 6 battle with St. Joseph Catholic, the Bronchos dropped a close 19 to 14 encounter with New Castle.

Gathering their forces for revenge, the footballers returned to style in a high-scoring tussle with Logansport, coming out on the long end of a 58 to 20 score. Still driving, they continued their job in bruising style by rolling over Crispus Attucks of Indianapolis, 39 to 0.

The last tussle of the season was with a spirited bunch of boys from Muncie. The ironmen from Jefferson found the job a little too difficult, as the Muncie spirit won out with a 39 to 19 victory.

When the job was done, the boys had something to be proud of. The team finished fourth in the North Central Conference. Ted Barrett, half-back, tied for first place in the conference scoring race.

Paul Cooper and Mike LeVitt were co-captains of this year's team. The outstanding player, who was elected by his teammates, was Carl Heninger.

Thus, next year, the future footballers have a challenge to capture the North Central Conference title.

Those moments on the bench are pretty anxious ones.

B-Team

Though the record doesn't show it, the football B-team learned a lot in experience. Part of the load of the varsity team will, next year, be tackled by the boys who saw the most action on the B-team. The coaches preparing them for this job were Mr. John Lazar and Mr. Morris Etter.

Jefferson's reserves finished the season with a record of 2 wins and 5 losses.

The Colts opened their season this year with Logansport, dropping the encounter 6 to 19. Then, after losing a tough one to Kokomo, 6 to 7, the boys found the power of Indianapolis Cathedral too much as they fell before the strong Indianapolis club with a score of 0 to 25.

It was at this time that things began to look brighter. The Jefferson youngsters overpowered Anderson 7 to 6, in their first win of the season. Then, after falling to Hammond Noll, 0 to 12, the Jeff boys trampled Noblesville 13 to 0.

The last game of the season was with the same Logansport club; this time the Colts lost 6 to 25.

It looks like the old razzle-dazzle.

Freshman

Coached by Mr. James Lybault and Mr. Charles Hopkins, the freshman team brightened Jeff's football future by compiling a season record of 8 wins and 2 losses. The year proved to be very successful as the boys were confronted with a tough schedule.

The preps opened the season strongly by plowing under Southport 21 to 0. Frankfort was the next victim, falling by 27 to 14. Then, after beating Logansport 13 to 6, the youngsters fell to a strong Kokomo club 21 to 27. Gathering their forces for revenge, the Jeff boys whipped the Rensselaer B-team by a score of 33 to 7.

The next two opponents both fell as we beat Anderson 12 to 7 and trampled Delphi 21 to 7. Against the Delphi B-team the preps dropped a close one, 7 to 14. With three games remaining, the boys mowed them down in rapid succession by defeating Hammond Noll 35 to 20, Frankfort 20 to 0, and Logansport 27 to 0 this time.

Thus, by wading through this tough schedule in such an impressive way, these boys gave the Jefferson football fans something to look forward to.

Cross Country

Running through a very successful season, Jeff's cross-country team chalked up a record of 4 wins and 2 losses.

Starting the season with Kokomo, Coach Orval Martin's harriers came up with a 50 to 18 victory. Then, after scoring a 30 to 25 win over Frankfort, the Broncs dropped a tough one to Logansport, 25 to 32.

With revenge in their legs, the speedsters trampled Marion 40 to 16. After losing the second one to Attica, 20 to 36, the Jeffmen left the same Frankfort team in the dust, this time 38 to 18.

Wayne Duff proved to be the big man of the year by leading his teammates to a ninth place in the North Central Conference and a second place in the Sectional. The boys finished twentieth in the state meet.

Members of the cross-country team were Wayne Duff, Jerry Rusk, Carl Franz, Dick Ade, Bob Criswell, Jim Holsclaw, John Monroe, and Bob Kemble. Dave Decker was manager.

The team selected Wayne Duff as the most valuable runner.

Thus, Jeff's colors were well represented as the cross-country team kept its legs moving through the season of a sport that is growing fast in recognition in Indiana High Schools.

Swimming

Probably the youngest sport here at Jeff is swimming. So far, the sport is in the experimental stage. However, each year brings a brighter spark of hope to the swimming future of our school.

The team, coached by Mr. Jack Whalen, had two meets this year besides the state meet. The first was a three-way meet with Muncie Central and Muncie Burris. The boys came out on the short end of a 45 to 23 to 19 score. Next, the tankmen journeyed to Columbus, Indiana, only to drop a 52 to 22 encounter.

The swimming team was composed of Maurie Woodworth, Denny Fisher, Phil Burgess, Ron Morgan, Bob Criswell, Buffy Mayerstein, Bob Schlientz, Paul Yoakum, Chuck Castor, and Harry Johnston.

The season was polished off with the state meet which was held at the Purdue Fieldhouse. Jefferson tied with South Bend Riley for sixth place. Both teams had a score of fourteen points. Maurie Woodworth proved to be the outstanding Jeff performer and one of the best in the state. He was the only double winner in the state meet. This was accomplished by finishing first in the 50 yard freestyle and also by taking first in the 100 yard freestyle.

It's a long way, isn't it, Maurie?

Varsity Basketball

After advancing to the Semi-Finals of the Indiana State High School Basketball Tourney, the gallant Jefferson Bronchos were unable to break the magic spell that the Semi-Finals seemed to hold over them. However, Coach Marion Crawley's crew had nothing to be ashamed of as they flourished a season record of 12 wins and 6 losses. Their final position in the North Central Conference was fourth place with a conference record of 5 wins and 4 losses.

The season began at Lebanon with the Bronchos coming home flashing a 67 to 50 victory. Then, after two wins over Rossville and Attica, 78 to 64 and 55 to 40, the roundballers received a 51 to 58 setback by Kokomo. Gary Roosevelt proved to be the next victim by falling 45 to 39 in a low-scoring, hard-fought battle. A tussle with Anderson found the Jeffmen with a 45 to 36 win, returning to see them overpower Frankfort a week later by a 54 to 36 score.

Traveling to South Bend Central, the boys came out on the long end of a 76 to 54 score before preparing for the tough holiday tourney, which was next on the agenda. Jasper was the winner over New Albany, Hammond, and host Jefferson.

Starting the second half of the season, the basketballers bowed to a strong Muncie Central club 49 to 50. In the annual rivalry with West Lafayette, they were 61 to 54 victors. After losing to Indianapolis Technical, 45 to 46, Jeff mowed down Marion, Logansport, and Elkhart by 71 to 57, 75 to 73, and 72 to 57 scores.

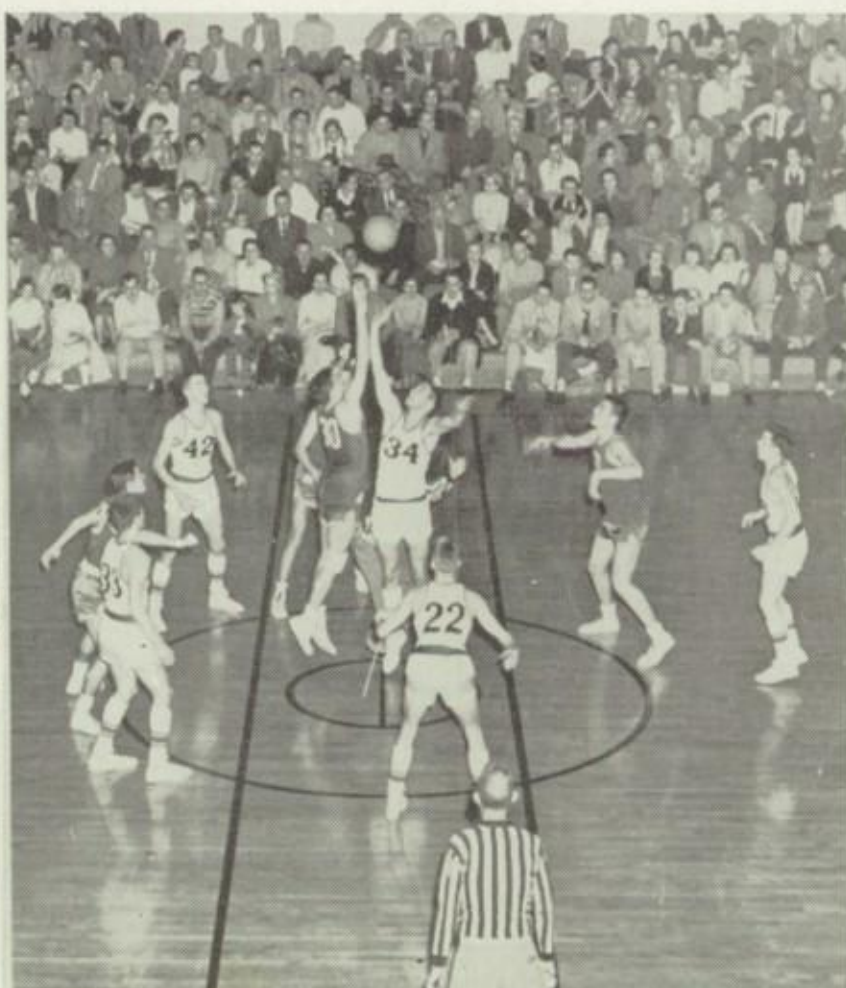

New Castle and Crawfordsville were able to beat the Broncs 48 to 50 and 41 to 46. Taking a plane to Richmond, the team grabbed a close, 51 to 49 decision. The last game of regular season play was dropped to Hammond 46 to 52.

Going into tournament play, the Jefferson Bronchos again reigned as Sectional and Regional champs. However, they were stopped in the Semi-Finals by a powerful Gary Roosevelt team, which had fallen to the Bronchos earlier in the season.

Co-captains of the team were Ed Becker and Mike Costello.

Comin' in on a wing and a prayer.

B-Team

Boasting a season record of 18 wins and 2 losses, Coach Sam Lyboul's B-Team brightened the future for next year's varsity squad.

Opening its season with Lebanon, the Colts came home with a 46 to 29 victory. Rossville fell 43 to 26. Playing Attica on their home floor, the young Bronchos bagged a 43 to 28 win.

The boys traveled next to Kokomo to slip through on the long end of a 30 to 27 score. After defeating Gary Roosevelt 43 to 39, the Colts overpowered Anderson 40 to 33. Then, they beat Frankfort 40 to 37. Making the trip to South Bend Central, Jeff was able to win 43 to 40 before handing Muncie a 43 to 33 loss.

In the Holiday Tourney at Kokomo, the Jeffmen lost the first game to Kokomo 35 to 41 before downing Garrett 44 to 39.

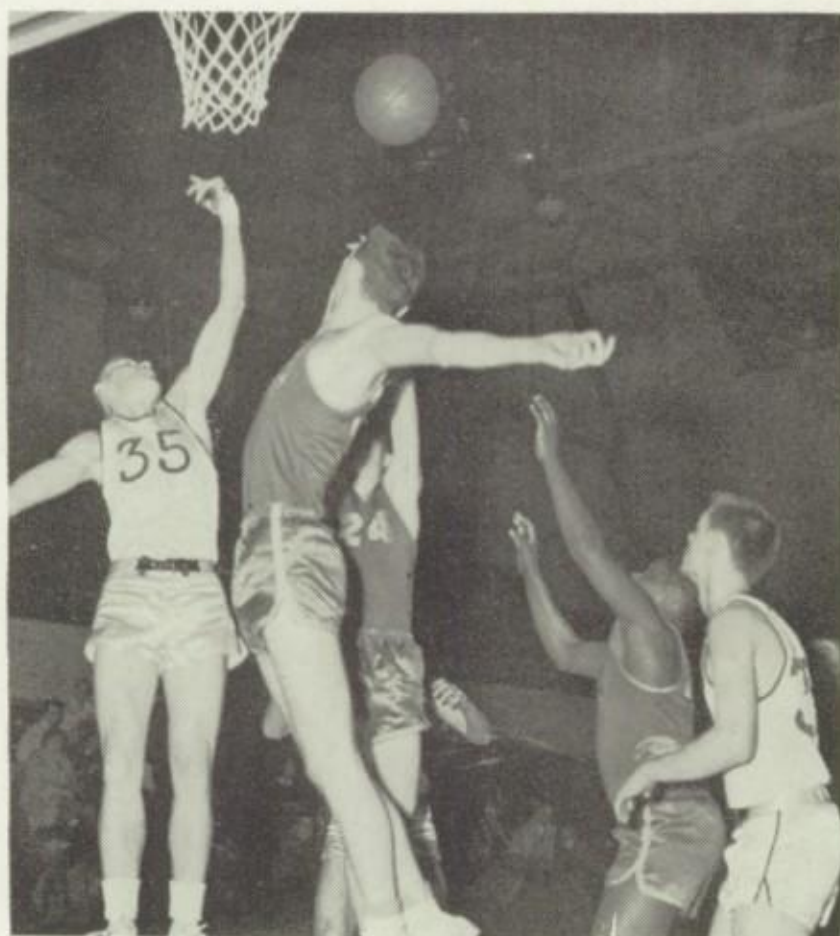

Returning to regular season play, the Colts grabbed a 43 to 34 overtime encounter with West Side. Then, journeying to Indianapolis Technical, they sniped a 36 to 32 victory. After the boys beat Marion 49 to 31 and mauled Logansport 65 to 48, Elkhart slapped a 38 to 41 loss on the Jeff boys.

Outlasting New Castle in a 32 to 30 overtime, the Broncs ended the year by stopping Crawfordsville 49 to 34, Richmond 46 to 28, and Monitor "A" 55 to 33.

Oh, if I were only 7 feet tall.

Practice, teamwork, and good coaching combined to form a season record of 21 victories and no losses for the Jefferson freshmen.

Coach John Lazar's roundballers began their job by mauling Crawfordsville 44 to 28. Without stopping, the youngsters rolled over West Side 54 to 38 and Peru 56 to 24. Finding the going a little rougher, they were able to eke out a close 42 to 38 decision against Anderson.

Zionsville and Attica were the next victims by losing 60 to 29 and 54 to 32, respectively. Then, after walloping Southport 54 to 35 and Greencastle 66 to 31, the Frosh steamed over Lebanon 60 to 32. Still going strong, the boys defeated Flora twice, 51 to 36 and 43 to 27.

Frankfort, Attica, and Lebanon were next on the Bronchos' black list by receiving defeats of 31 to 21, 56 to 32, and 46 to 35. Kokomo followed suit on a 63 to 42 score.

Jeff met Crispus Attucks of Indianapolis in a hard-fought 29 to 28 battle before downing Rensselaer 53 to 29. Completing the season, Danville, Illinois, fell 53 to 20, Delphi 50 to 26, and Logansport 61 to 50.

The team won both the West Central Junior Conference and the tournament.

Wrestling

Flashing a season record of 13 wins and 1 loss, the wrestling team greatly improved last year's record of 5 wins and 7 losses.

The grapplers began with a 47 to 3 win over Peru. The next victim was Crawfordsville 38 to 6. Overpowering a strong Waukegan, Illinois, club 29 to 19, the matmen traveled to Danville, Illinois, to win a 29 to 11 bout.

The Jeffmen received their only loss against Champaign, Illinois, 18 to 24. The team mauled Indianapolis Manual 45 to 5. Kokomo succumbed 27 to 9. At home, Bloomington fell 33 to 8, and Indianapolis Shortridge bowed 32 to 11.

At South Bend, the Bronchos defeated Central 25 to 17. Indianapolis Technical went down with a close 26 to 22 defeat. With Southport, the Jeffmen brought home a 26 to 19 victory. The grapplers defeated Muncie 26 to 19 and Anderson 32 to 9 in the same day.

Jeff won the North Central Conference meet with four firsts, two seconds, three thirds, and one fourth. The firsts were grabbed by Larry Vaught, Bob Martin, Mike LeVitt, and Fred Swick.

In the Sectional Meet, Jeff placed second. Coach Norm Willey's crew took second in the State Meet, losing the title by a mere four points. Mike LeVitt and Bob Martin were each able to place second in the State.

Get that takedown, Perry!

Golf

That green seems awfully small!

The Bronc golfers had a difficult task to better last year's record of 13 wins and 4 losses. Coached by Mr. John Lazar, the Jeffmen had several veterans back on the squad.

Last year the Bronchos fell to Crawfordsville 2½ to 12½. After beating Frankfort twice, 10 to 5 and 11 to 4, they routed Logansport 10 to 5 and Frankfort 12 to 3. New Castle fell 9 to 6, and Indianapolis Shortridge was downed 13 to 2.

After mowing down Richmond 9 to 6, Marion 11 to 4, and Kokomo 12 to 3, the golfers met a 5 to 10 loss to Anderson. They overpowered Muncie 9½ to 5½. The Jeffmen finished second in the Conference Meet. Defeats were suffered at the hands of Anderson 4½ to 10½, and Crawfordsville 5½ to 9½. The season was closed by a victory over Peru 11½ to 3½, and two wins over West Lafayette, 12 to 3 and 10 to 5.

This year's task started by meets with Crawfordsville, Frankfort, and a dual meet with West Lafayette and Kentland. After traveling to Peru, the Bronchos returned home for engagements with Rochester and Lebanon. Next was the La-Porte Invitational. A dual meet was held with Crawfordsville and West Lafayette before journeying to Logansport. The year ended with the Sectional, the Conference Meet at Logansport, and the State Meet.

Tennis

With four returning lettermen and several other prospects, Coach Gerald Clark's crew had the best tennis outlook yet.

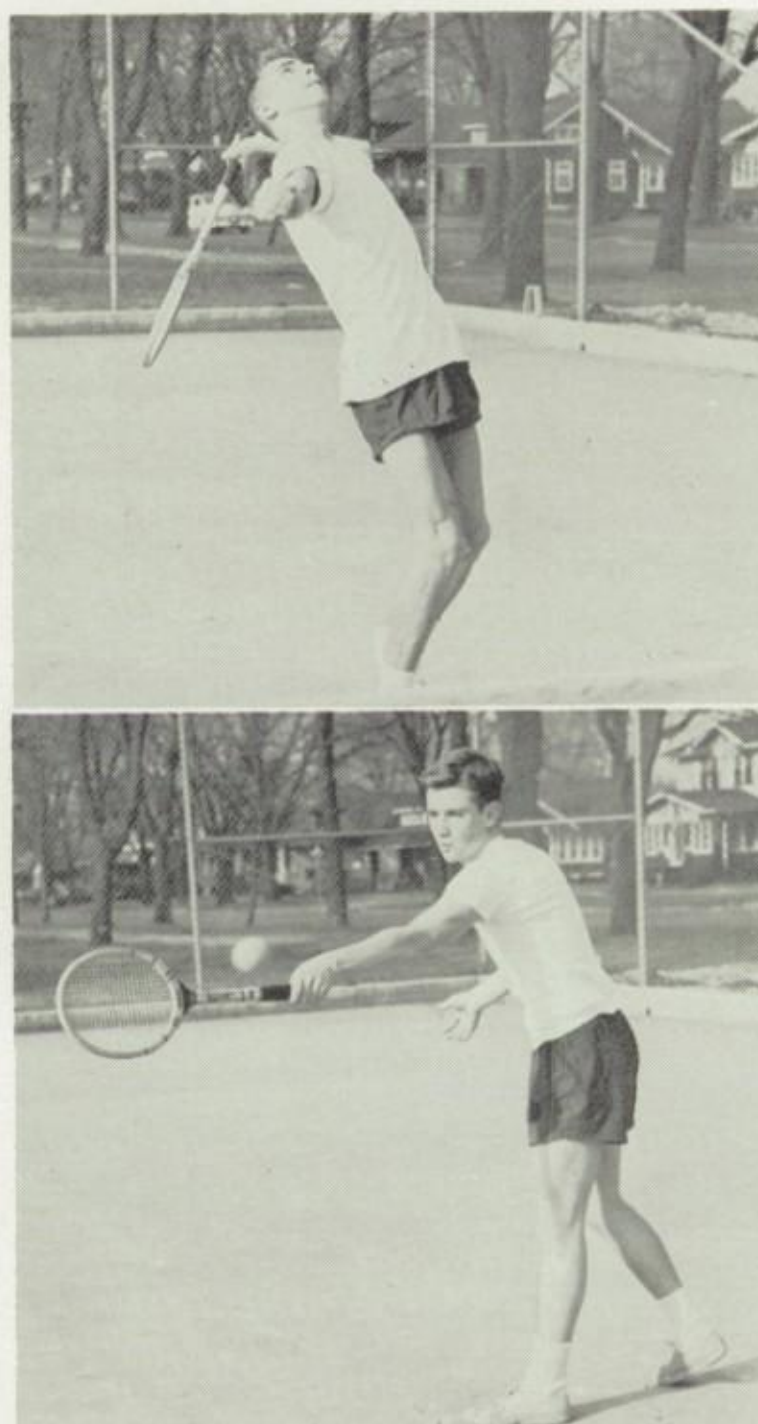

The aim of this year's team was to better last year's record of 4 wins and 8 losses. Last season was opened by a 7 to 0 win over West Lafayette. This was followed by a 1 to 8 Broncho defeat by Crawfordsville. After rolling over Peru, the Jeffmen lost to Marion and Indianapolis Technical.

Traveling to Logansport, the racket men dropped a close 3 to 4 match before returning home to hand Muncie Central a 4 to 3 loss. Falling to Anderson, Richmond, Danville, Illinois, and Frankfort, the Broncs finished the season with a 6 to 1 victory over Kokomo.

Returning lettermen this year were Dave Lux, Dave Jones, Dave Hawkins, and Jerry Rusk. Giving valuable support to these boys were Stan Scott, Mike LeVitt, Dave Culross, Dick Schuessler, Jerry Bush, Lynn Plaster, Bob Schlientz, Ed Becht, Don DuBois, Balfe Wagner, Fred Reiss, John Dieterle, Jim Smith, Jay Patterson, and Bob Helm. The tennis manager was Albert Pearlman.

This year's schedule consisted of home matches with West Lafayette, Crawfordsville, Peru, Logansport, Anderson, Richmond, and Crispus Attucks. The team traveled to Marion, Indianapolis Technical, Muncie Central, Frankfort, Danville, Illinois, and Kokomo.

A hot serve is in the making.

Decker, Coach Martin.

Track

Strong prospects but an inexperienced team was the outlook for the Jefferson track squad this year. Coach Orval Martin had seven returning lettermen this year. They were Wayne Duff, half-mile and mile; Jerry Fisher, sprints; Bob Johnson, 100 yard dash and 220 yard run; Gene Reeder, half-mile and mile; Steve Martin, pole vault, high jump, and broadjump; Howard Wyant, 440 and 220 yard run; and Fred Swick, shot put. Strong contenders from last year's freshman team were Jim Holsclaw, Don McDill, Ed Smith, and Don Ubelhor.

Last year's track team was very successful by winning the Sectionals, the Central Indiana Meet, and the Attica Relays. The team finished sixth in the North Central Conference Meet.

After a good showing at Bloomington in the Hoosier Relays, the Bronchos fell to Indianapolis Shortridge in their first dual meet of the season. One week later, the trackmen took revenge by walloping Frankfort 69½ to 29½. After running over Hammond Clark by 70 points, they captured the Attica Relays 69 to 50.

Running to a victory in the Delphi Relays, the Jeffmen could not be stopped as they rolled over Logansport 84 to 24. The team participated in the North Central Conference Meet and the Central Indiana Meet before grabbing a dual meet with Frankfort. Once again they traveled to Frankfort, this time to compete in the Sectionals. Then, after placing second in the Logansport Relays, the runners finished the season by taking part in the Regional and State Meets.

Last year's mile relay team finished first in the Regionals and brought home a fourth in the State Meet.

This year, as last, the season was opened with the Hoosier Relays at Bloomington. The team then traveled to Indianapolis Shortridge for a dual engagement. The Attica Relays were next on the list, followed by a dual affair at Frankfort. After traveling to Bloomington to participate in the Bloomington High School Relays, the Broncs journeyed to Delphi to enter the Delphi Relays.

The first home showing of the season was against Logansport. The remainder of the year was devoted to the Central Indiana, Sectional, Regional, and State Meets, and the Logansport Relays.

And the race is on

Baseball

Finishing with a record of 17 wins and 4 losses, the Jeff baseballers proved to be very successful last year. Despite occasional spring rains, Coach Sam Lybault's crew waded through a tough schedule to record this fine job.

Leading off with a 2 to 3 loss to Lebanon, the Bronchos quickly returned to flash an impressive 11 to 1 victory over Muncie. Two days later, they were still rolling as they mauled Crawfordsville 18 to 3. Indianapolis Technical handed the Jeffmen their second defeat of the season with a 2 to 4 score.

A double-header with Danville, Illinois, saw Jeff on the long end of 2 to 1 and 5 to 3 scores. After falling to Hammond Noll 3 to 4, the team overpowered Hammond High 9 to 8. Two more impressive victories were chalked up against Anderson 4 to 0 and New Castle 10 to 0. The Bronchos saw their way through to beat Indianapolis Ben Davis 3 to 1, before revenging the same Lebanon club 5 to 2.

Picking up a 3 to 1 win over Marion, the team trounced Kokomo 15 to 3. After beating Frankfort 7 to 6 and rolling over Zionsville 6 to 0, Jeff dropped a close 2 to 3 encounter with Richmond. Logansport found the Jeff club strong as they fell 6 to 4. Crawfordsville was again the loser in a 10 to 0 engagement. The last two dates were filled by edging out Terre Haute Gerstmeyer 3 to 2 and romping Hammond Noll 9 to 0.

Prospects were strong this year for the baseball team with several returning lettermen. Although they suffered the loss of such veterans as Larry Shuman, Bill Burgess, Roni Cohen, Charles Church, and Jack King, the squad found on the returning list Ralph Maple, Ed Becker, Carl Heninger, Duff McKenzie, and Bob McGraw. Also coming back for another year were Mike Costello, Jim Holladay, Jerry Neal, Dick Neel, Bob Barcus, and Ed Farley.

These boys were aided by Jim Chatham, Bob Martin, Jack Helmkamp, Dick Crosser, Ronnie Brunger, Norm Cockrell, John Bramble, and Gary Johnson.

This year's schedule consisted of games with Crispus Attucks, Crawfordsville, Veedersburg, Muncie, Indianapolis Technical, and Danville, Illinois. The Bronchos then returned home to meet Frankfort and Marion. Hammond High and Hammond Noll were next on the list, followed by Anderson, New Castle, Logansport, and Kokomo. Games were played consecutively with Zionsville and Richmond. The season was ended with encounters against Indianapolis Ben Davis, Crawfordsville, Hammond High, Hammond Noll, and Terre Haute Gerstmeyer.

Keep that toe on the base!

Guard that plate, Duff.

Get that double play, Ed!

Those bags have to be packed.

Managers

Contributing their time and tireless assistance, the managers are a very important cog in the sports machine here at Jeff.

Managing varsity football were Bill Davis and Dave Beaver. Dennis Overley handled the B-Team, while David Ebner and Jerry Becker took care of the freshmen.

In the basketball department we found: Gary Johnson and Bill Davis, varsity; Don Jackson, B-Team; and David Ebner, freshman.

Dave Decker worked with the cross-country team and Al Pearlman shouldered the tennis duties. Dennis Overley managed the wrestling squad. Teaming together on the track job were Dave Decker and Dennis Overley, while Bill Davis was slated for the baseball assignment.

Giving first aid, keeping a record of the players' and team statistics, and taking care of all team equipment are among the many tasks performed by the managers.

We salute the workers "behind the lines" in the Jefferson Athletic Department.

Pep Band

Big surprises come in small packages, but in this case powerful music comes from Jeff's smallest band, the Pep Band.

The Pep Band played for pep sessions, parades, and some of the home football games. The band was just what its name implies—full of pep. At some of the out-of-town football games the "guys" were the yell leaders' whole cheering section. Boy, what noise!

Ronnie Morgan, senior, was drum major and Dave Hawkins was the senior in charge of the Pep Band. Other senior members were Don Williams, Dave Culross, Jerry Brenner, Arnold Yarno, and Charles Thompson. Tom South, Larry Foust, Larry Brand, Ronnie Cleaver, John McCord, Mike Sherry, and Larry Cress made up the junior members. Sophomores were Bob Mater and Roger Hoffman. Freshmen were Danny Bible and Eddie Davis.

Looking very sharp in their red jackets with black emblems, the Pep Band executed many formations at the home football field and out-of-town. At pep sessions the band also formed a "J" on the gym floor.

I guess they're called musicians.

Cheerleaders

J-J-J-E-F—, was a familiar yell led by the Varsity cheerleaders, not only at the home football and basketball games, but also at the out-of-town games. The weather might have been cold and the roads slick but that did not keep them and Mrs. Thomas G. Graham from going and leading the Bronchos to victory.

The varsity cheerleaders this year were Marsha Vance, captain, Sue Bussell, Monna Cuppy, and Marjie Donahue. They attended the North Central Cheerleaders Conference at Logansport High School.

Besides leading yells and boosting school spirit the cheerleaders' duties were to plan pep sessions and assist the Block Section. They were hostesses at a luncheon given for visiting cheerleaders of the Holiday Tourney teams.

Ricki Gillaspy, captain, Carolyn Blind, Beth Lohman, and Donna Massey were this year's B-Team cheerleaders who cheered the future varsity team of Jeff to victory. The B-Team cheerleaders along with the Varsity, sponsored mixers. Both the Varsity and B-Team cheerleaders attended the Indiana State Cheerleaders Conference at Indiana University this fall.

They're tireless workers at the games.

Majorettes

Proudly strutting their stuff and twirling their batons at every home football and basketball game were Jeff's four majorettes. Barbara Pitman was captain of the twirlers; Shirley Howard, Darlene Cook, and Judy McCord completed the quartet.

These girls are members of the band, and each plays an instrument. After the basketball season, they perform with the band in concerts and contests.

Majorettes compete in twirling contests, too. At the State Solo and Ensemble Contest in Indianapolis, Barbara Pitman, Shirley Howard, and Judy McCord won first division on solo twirling and a trio, and Darlene Cook's solo placed in second division. The trio then went to All-State Solo and Ensemble Contest at Butler University, where they also twirled off with a first division. With solos, Barbara Pitman and Shirley Howard placed second in the All-State Contest.

These prize-winning majorettes give baton-twirling lessons, and at some games their pupils entertained the spectators.

Our majorettes also marched in local parades and with other twirlers on Purdue Band Day.

Kneeling: J. McCord and S. Howard.
Standing: B. Pitman and D. Cook.

Jeff Trains Us To Be Leaders Of Tomorrow . . .

What does Jefferson High School mean to you? Perhaps you think of the principals and the teachers, or the basketball team. But really, it is the students that make up Jeff. These students will be the leaders of tomorrow's world, so they must be trained to accept their future responsibilities.

It is Jeff's purpose to educate these students and, as a by-product, to make these the best years of their lives, by offering extra-curricular activities and making many friends.

Education at Jeff is complete and thorough because of the variety of courses offered. A student planning to enter college can get a good academic course, and another one with a different ambition can at least partly ready himself for the job he chooses through Jeff's numerous vocational courses.

Another kind of education is supplied by extra-curricular activities. In the merry-go-round of sports, dances, club meetings, and parties, Jeff's students learn sportsmanship, cooperation, and companionship; the ups and downs of their high school lives prepare them for the years to come.

Although there are times when any Jeff student would deny it, these high school days are wonderful. After a good football game or when the curtain closes on a successful "Red and Black Revue," that exhilarating feeling experienced by the participants more than compensates for all the work and worry.

All these activities help others, too, at the same time they are helping the students. All the talent shows and the Senior Play entertain the students and the public. Sunshine and Tri-Hi-Y girls' Christmas caroling, the Junior Red Cross entertaining at the old people's homes, the whole school turning out to send Christmas food baskets where they are needed — all indicate the generous spirit of Jeff's students.

Dances, picnics, and parties, the things we do "just for fun," are an indispensable part of a student's life.

At commencement each year, many of Jeff's students leave feeling ready and able to fill their niche in life as leaders of tomorrow.

Senior officers: Bill Davis, vice-president; Paul Cooper, president; Gary Johnson, secretary-treasurer.

Senior Class

When the class of '55 were freshmen, they began planning and working for their Senior Prom. This year they did most of the work toward financing the prom and the big-name band, Buddy Morrow.

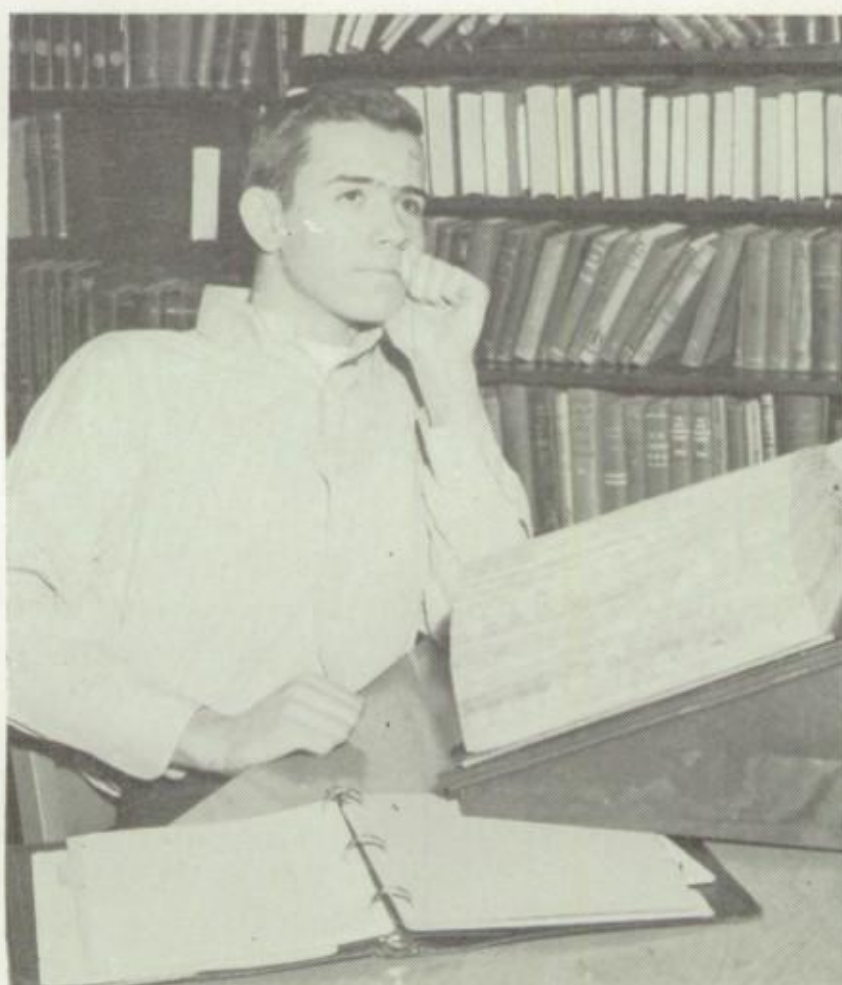

Each year some specific money-raising projects are reserved for the seniors. Among these are soliciting magazine subscriptions, selling name-cards, and selling popcorn. The popcorn was the chief fund-raiser, being sold at Jeff Penney Day and throughout the first semester.

On February 22, 1955, they presented the annual Senior Revue, a variety show featuring talent of the seniors. This had a double purpose: to entertain students, faculty, and the public, and to add to that growing fund for the Prom.

But the senior year wasn't all work, by any means. Senior Tramp Day, when shirt-tails were out and outlandish styles were in, will probably start a tradition for Jefferson seniors.

"Money Mad", the 1955 Senior Play, was fun for the participants as well as the audience.

Officers leading the class were Paul Cooper, president; Bill Davis, vice-president; and Gary Johnson, secretary-treasurer.

I wonder where I'll be at this time next year.

Seniors really dolled up for Senior Tramp Day.

Everyone wanted one of the juniors' derbies for the tourneys.

What are you going to sing in the Junior Revue?

Junior Class

"We are the juniors, juniors are we" The juniors were proud of their class and were looking forward to next year.

With an eye on their senior year, they planned and successfully completed many money-making projects. The first of these was a paper drive with the seniors. The treasury also profited from a commission of the sale of class rings.

The Junior Talent Show was one of the largest undertakings, with Jim Blosser as its general chairman. Mr. L. W. Smith and Mr. George Kenzler were faculty advisors for the show, which was held in the gym May 6, 1955.

At tourney time, the juniors added substantially to their funds by holding a mixer during the sectionals and selling red and black derbies at all the games. Many cars at the tourneys sported Broncho stickers—selling these was another junior project.

The officers of the junior class, Don Good, president; Dick Crosser, vice-president; and Judie Huth, secretary-treasurer, led the class through a very rewarding year.

Junior officers displaying some class projects are Judie Huth, secretary-treasurer; Dick Crosser, vice-president; Don Good, president.

Sophomore Class

In the sophomore year we find ourselves treading the second bend of that high school road and doing it rather smoothly.

With Tom Schmidt, president; Ricki Gillaspy, vice-president; and Bob Schaaf, secretary-treasurer, the class of 1957 had a smooth ride this year and succeeded in adding quite a sum to its treasury by its many projects.

A mixer after one of the football games contributed to the "pot" and also the paper drive in January netted forty-six dollars. The Christmas cards project was the most profitable of the year. Homeroom chairmen were responsible for distributing the Christmas cards among the sophomores. They also handled the money, which totaled to two hundred and twenty-five dollars. Nice going, sophomores!

It does not take very long for students to get acquainted with Jeff and really go places. Before long the 1957 class will find themselves in the seniors' shoes.

Would you like to buy a box of Christmas cards?

Thanks for all the papers.

Freshman Class

"Crazy-mixed-up" is a good adjective to describe that freshman year. It is very true that freshmen find themselves a little mixed-up because of new surroundings. Freshmen sometimes get lost and finally go to the wrong classes.

My! We bet those freshmen thought we older classmen seemed old. We certainly did then. They probably wondered whether they would ever reach their senior year. We will answer that. Yes, you reach it too soon!

We cannot think of any better time to start a class off on the right foot than in the freshman year. This year's freshman class did just that under the leadership of Dave Price, president; Marcia Hanf, vice-president; Marjorie Boothe, secretary; and Buffy Mayerstein, treasurer.

The freshman class sponsored two mixers, held in January and February. This new treasury had approximately thirty-one dollars in it. Good start, class of 1958!

Planning their activities, the officers are Buffy Mayerstein, treasurer; Marcia Hanf, vice-president; Dave Price, president; and Marjorie Boothe, secretary.

Before a game, the kids are "pepped-up" by the cheerleaders—S. Risk, J. Craig, M. Wilson, and S. Benner.

Mixers are always fun, especially after an exciting game.

Jeff Trains Us To Appreciate

The Necessity Of Business . . .

Advertising is very important to the NAUTILUS. Many of you probably wonder why this is so. The fact is that if it were not for the cooperation of the merchants and townspeople of Lafayette, we would be unable to publish a yearbook at such a low cost to the students. We are very grateful to them.

More important to everyone of Lafayette is our livelihood which would practically be impossible if it weren't for our merchants. Lafayette is certainly fortunate to have such a variety of stores and business enterprises. In turn, the merchants are fortunate to be situated in such a wealthy community which can afford this great variety. Since we have such a prosperous downtown district, many people from surrounding communities come to Lafayette to do their shopping.

Advertising is very important because it is a tool of business employed in varying degrees by every business enterprise. Efforts to improve business are noneffective without some form of sales promotion through the medium of advertising. Advertising moves merchandise and creates the demand for services. Manufacturers, wholesalers, jobbers, retailers, and service businesses have all found that "Advertising pays." It is the quickest, least expensive, and most effective tool yet developed as an aid to selling. As such, advertising has been accepted by business in general and has played an indispensable part in developing in the United States a standard of living second to that of no other country. Our "place in the sun" has been achieved largely by the development through advertising of markets for the tremendous productive capacity of our industry.

The picture at the right shows a Jeff girl and boy during the Christmas season carrying their many gifts purchased at the downtown stores.

Throughout the remaining pages you will see more Jeff students in the photo ads visiting stores and business firms. You will see advertisements of merchants you already patronize and also of ones you don't know. We hope you will find many more prospective merchants who can help you.

Acknowledgments

With the completion of the 1955 NAUTILUS, the Staff extends to all of the many people who worked hard and spent hours of their time in making this book a success many thanks and appreciation of their service.

Mrs. Marian Gettings and Mrs. Lelah Zahn deserve utmost praise for the endless time and patience which they spent pointing out to us our mistakes in literary copy; the thanks for helping us to handle our financial work and subscription sales goes to Miss Lina Bright, Miss Regina Schrader, Miss Mary Catherine Harrington, and Mrs. Ruth Potter; the job of individual and action pictures fell on Mr. Jack Swezey of Phillips Photo Center who did a magnificent job; the Lafayette Engraving Company deserves credit for doing fine work on the engraving in this book; a superior job of printing the 1955 NAUTILUS was done by the Lafayette Printing Company; and the wonderful job on the cover was done by the S. K. Smith Company of Chicago, Illinois. Many thanks to all.

We also wish to express our sincere gratitude to Mr. Webb and Mr. Martin, the teachers, and the students for their continual help and co-operation. The Staff of the 1955 NAUTILUS deeply appreciated all the kind assistance that was extended by everyone. And it is our sincere hope that you will enjoy this book as much as we, the Staff, have enjoyed preparing it for you.

Thank You!
